§ 310 Overview

Section 320 of this chapter reproduces the Rules for Judicial-Conduct and Judicial-Disability Proceedings. They were adopted on March 11, 2008, and took effect on April 10, 2008. They were amended on September 17, 2015, ~~and~~ and again on [DATE], published in final form in May 2016.

§ 320 Rules for Judicial-Conduct and Judicial-Disability Proceedings

Preface

These Rules were promulgated by the Judicial Conference of the United States, after public comment, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 331 and 358, to establish standards and procedures for addressing complaints filed by complainants or identified by chief judges under the Judicial Conduct and Disability Act, 28 U.S.C. §§ 351–364.

1 ARTICLE I. GENERAL PROVISIONS

2 1. Scope and Covered Judges

3 (a) Scope. These Rules govern proceedings under the Judicial Conduct 4 and Disability Act (~~the~~ Act), 28 U.S.C. §§ 351–364, to determine 5 whether a covered judge has engaged in conduct prejudicial to the 6 effective and expeditious administration of the business of the 7 courts or is unable to discharge the duties of office because of 8 mental or physical disability.

9 (b) Covered Judge. A covered judge is defined under the Act and is 10 limited to judges of United States courts of appeals, judges of United 11 States district courts, judges of United States bankruptcy courts, 12 United States magistrate judges, and judges of the courts specified 13 in 28 U.S.C. § 363.

14 COMMENTARY ON RULE 1

15 In September 2006, the Judicial Conduct and Disability Act Study Committee 16 (“Breyer Committee”), appointed in 2004 by Chief Justice Rehnquist, presented a report 17 (“Breyer Committee Report”), 239 F.R.D. 116 (Sept. 2006), to Chief Justice Roberts that 18 evaluated implementation of the Judicial Conduct and Disability Act of 1980, 28 U.S.C.
19 §§ 351–364. The Breyer Committee had been formed in response to criticism from the 20 public and Congress regarding the effectiveness of the Act’s implementation. The 21 Executive Committee of the Judicial Conference directed its Committee on Judicial 22 Conduct and Disability to consider the Breyer Committee’s recommendations and to 23 report on their implementation to the Conference.

24 The Breyer Committee found that it could not evaluate implementation of the Act 25 without establishing interpretive standards, Breyer Committee Report, 239 F.R.D. at 26 132, and that a major problem faced by chief judges in implementing the Act was the 27 lack of authoritative interpretive standards. Id. at 212–15. The Breyer Committee then 28 established standards to guide its evaluation, some of which were new formulations and 29 some of which were taken from the “Illustrative Rules Governing Complaints of Judicial 30 Misconduct and Disability,” discussed below. The principal standards used by the 31 Breyer Committee are in Appendix E of its Report. Id. at 238.

32 Based on the Breyer Committee’s findings, the Committee on Judicial Conduct 33 and Disability concluded that there was a need for the Judicial Conference to exercise 34 its power under Section 358 of the Act to fashion standards guiding the various officers 35 and bodies that must exercise responsibility under the Act. To that end, the Committee 36 on Judicial Conduct and Disability proposed rules ~~that were~~ based largely on Appendix 37 E of the Breyer Committee Report and the Illustrative Rules.

1 The Illustrative Rules were originally prepared in 1986 by the Special Committee 2 of the Conference of Chief Judges of the United States Courts of Appeals, and were 3 subsequently revised and amended, most recently in 2000, by the predecessor to the 4 Committee on Judicial Conduct and Disability. The Illustrative Rules were adopted, with 5 minor variations, by circuit judicial councils, to govern complaints under the Judicial 6 Conduct and Disability Act.

7 After being submitted for public comment pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 358(c), the 8 Judicial Conference promulgated the present Rules on March 11, 2008. They were 9 amended on September 17, 2015, and again on [DATE].

10 The definition of a covered judge tracks the Judicial Conduct and Disability Act.
11 See 28 U.S.C. §§ 351(d)(1) (defining the term “judge” as “a circuit judge, district judge, 12 bankruptcy judge, or magistrate judge”).

13 Rules 8(c) and (d) address the procedures for processing a complaint involving 14 allegations against a person not covered by the Act, such as other court personnel, or 15 against both a covered judge and a noncovered person. Court employees seeking to 16 report, or file a claim related to, misconduct or the denial of rights granted under their 17 Employment Dispute Resolution (EDR) plan by other court personnel may wish to 18 consult the Model EDR Plan and the EDR plan for the relevant court, among other 19 resources. See Guide to Judiciary Policy, vol. 12, appx. 2B.

20 2. ~~Effect and~~ Construction and Effect

21 (a) Generally. These Rules are mandatory; they supersede any 22 conflicting judicial-council rules. Judicial councils may promulgate 23 additional rules to implement the Act as long as those rules do not 24 conflict with these Rules.

25 (b) Exception. A Rule will not apply if, when performing duties 26 authorized by the Act, a chief judge, a special committee, a judicial 27 council, the Committee on Judicial Conduct and Disability, or the 28 Judicial Conference expressly finds that exceptional circumstances 29 render application of that Rule in a particular proceeding manifestly 30 unjust or contrary to the purposes of the Act or these Rules.

31 COMMENTARY ON RULE 2

32 Unlike the Illustrative Rules, these Rules provide mandatory and nationally 33 uniform provisions governing the substantive and procedural aspects of misconduct and 34 disability proceedings under the Act. The mandatory nature of these Rules is 35 authorized by 28 U.S.C. § 358(a) and (c). Judicial councils retain the power to 36 promulgate rules consistent with these Rules. For example, a local rule may authorize 37 the electronic distribution of materials pursuant to Rule 8(b).

1 Rule 2(b) recognizes that unforeseen and exceptional circumstances may call for 2 a different approach in particular cases.

3 3. General Definitions

4 The following general definitions apply to these Rules. Cognizable misconduct
5 and disability are defined in Rule 4.

7 (a) Chief Judge. “Chief judge” means the chief judge of a United States 8 court of appeals, of the United States Court of International Trade, or 9 of the United States Court of Federal Claims.

10 (b) Circuit Clerk. “Circuit clerk” means a clerk of a United States court 11 of appeals, the clerk of the United States Court of International 12 Trade, the clerk of the United States Court of Federal Claims, or the 13 circuit executive of the United States Court of Appeals for the 14 Federal Circuit.

15 (c) Complaint. A “complaint” is:

16 (1) a document that, in accordance with Rule 6, is filed by, or on 17 behalf of, any person, including a document filed by an in his 18 or her individual capacity or on behalf of a professional 19 organization; or

20 (2) information from any source, other than a document described 21 in (c)(1), that gives a chief judge probable cause to believe that 22 a covered judge, as defined in Rule ~~4~~ 1(b), has engaged in 23 misconduct or may have a disability, whether or not the 24 information is framed as or is intended to be an allegation of 25 misconduct or disability.

26 (d) Court of Appeals, District Court, and District Judge. “Courts of 27 appeals,” “district court,” and “district judge,” where appropriate, 28 include the United States Court of Federal Claims, the United States 29 Court of International Trade, and the judges thereof.

30 ~~(e) Disability. “Disability” is a temporary or permanent impairment,~~ 31 ~~physical or mental, rendering a judge unable to discharge the duties~~ 32 ~~of the particular judicial office. Examples of disability include~~ 33 ~~substance abuse, the inability to stay awake during court~~ 34 ~~proceedings, or impairment of cognitive abilities that renders the~~ 35 ~~judge unable to function effectively.~~

36 ~~(f)~~ (e) Judicial Council and Circuit. “Judicial council” and “circuit,” where 37 appropriate, include any courts designated in 28 U.S.C. § 363.

1 (gf) Judicial Employee. “Judicial Employee” includes judicial assistants, 2 law clerks, and other court employees, including unpaid staff, such 3 as interns, externs, and other volunteer employees.

4 (g) Magistrate Judge. “Magistrate judge,” where appropriate, includes a 5 special master appointed by the Court of Federal Claims under 6 42 U.S.C. § 300aa-12(c).

7 (h) ~~Misconduct. Cognizable misconduct:~~

8 ~~(1) is conduct prejudicial to the effective and expeditious~~
9 ~~administration of the business of the courts. Misconduct~~ 10 ~~includes, but is not limited to:~~ 11 ~~(A) using the judge’s office to obtain special treatment for~~ 12 ~~friends or relatives;~~

13 ~~(B) accepting bribes, gifts, or other personal favors related~~ 14 ~~to the judicial office;~~

15 ~~(C) having improper discussions with parties or counsel for~~ 16 ~~one side in a case;~~

17 ~~(D) treating litigants, attorneys, Judiciary employees, or~~ 18 ~~others in a demonstrably egregious and hostile manner;~~

19 ~~(E) engaging in sexual misconduct or misconduct based on~~ 20 ~~sex, including sexual harassment or assault, or sex- or~~ 21 ~~gender- based discrimination;~~

22 ~~(F) discriminating against or harassing Judiciary~~ 23 ~~employees or others due to race, color, religion, national~~ 24 ~~origin, sex, gender, age, or disability;~~

25 ~~(FG) engaging in partisan political activity or making~~ 26 ~~inappropriately partisan statements;~~

27 ~~(FGH) soliciting funds for organizations;~~

28 ~~(GHI) retaliating against complainants, witnesses, or Judiciary~~ 29 ~~employees, or others for their participation in reporting~~
30 ~~or disclosing judicial misconduct, otherwise~~ 31 ~~participating in this complaint process, or other~~ 32 ~~impermissible reasons;~~

1 ~~(HIJ) refusing, without good cause shown, to cooperate in the~~ 2 ~~investigation of a complaint or enforcement of a~~ 3 ~~decision rendered under these Rules; or~~

4 ~~(IJK) violating other specific, mandatory standards of judicial~~ 5 ~~conduct, such as those pertaining to restrictions on~~ 6 ~~outside income and requirements for financial~~ 7 ~~disclosure.~~

8 ~~(2) is conduct occurring outside the performance of official duties~~ 9 ~~if the conduct might have a prejudicial effect on the~~ 10 ~~administration of the business of the courts, including a~~ 11 ~~substantial and widespread lowering of public confidence in~~ 12 ~~the courts among reasonable people.~~

13 ~~(3) does not include:~~

14 ~~(A) an allegation that is directly related to the merits of a~~ 15 ~~decision or procedural ruling. An allegation that calls~~
16 ~~into question the correctness of a judge’s ruling,~~ 17 ~~including a failure to recuse, without more, is~~ 18 ~~merits-related. If the decision or ruling is alleged to be~~ 19 ~~the result of an improper motive, e.g., a bribe, ex parte~~ 20 ~~contact, racial or ethnic bias, or improper conduct in~~ 21 ~~rendering a decision or ruling, such as personally~~ 22 ~~derogatory remarks irrelevant to the issues, the~~ 23 ~~complaint is not cognizable to the extent that it attacks~~ 24 ~~the merits.~~

25 ~~(B) an allegation about delay in rendering a decision or~~ 26 ~~ruling, unless the allegation concerns an improper~~
27 ~~motive in delaying a particular decision or habitual delay~~ 28 ~~in a significant number of unrelated cases.~~

29 ~~(ih) Subject Judge. “Subject judge” means any judge a covered judge,~~ 30 ~~as described in Rule 4 1(b), who is the subject of a complaint.~~

31 COMMENTARY ON RULE 3

32 Rule 3 is derived and adapted from the Breyer Committee Report and the 33 Illustrative Rules.

34 Unless otherwise specified or the context otherwise indicates, the term 35 “complaint” is used in these Rules to refer both to complaints identified by a chief judge 36 under Rule 5 and to complaints filed by a complainant under Rule 6.

1 Under the Act, a “complaint” may be filed by “any person” or “identified” by a 2 chief judge. See 28 U.S.C. § 351(a), (b). Under Rule 3(c)(1), a complaint may be 3 submitted by, or on behalf of, any person, in his or her individual capacity, or by a 4 professional including a document filed by an organization. Traditional standing 5 requirements do not apply. Individuals or organizations may file a complaint even if 6 they have not been directly injured or aggrieved.

7 Generally, the word “complaint” brings to mind the commencement of an 8 adversary proceeding in which the contending parties are left to present the evidence 9 and legal arguments, and judges play the role of an essentially passive arbiter. The 10 Act, however, establishes an administrative, inquisitorial process. For example, even 11 absent a complaint filed by a complainant under Rule 6, chief judges are expected in 12 some circumstances to trigger the process — “identify a complaint,” see 28 U.S.C.
13 § 351(b) and Rule 5 — and conduct an investigation without becoming a party. See 28 14 U.S.C. § 352(a); Breyer Committee Report, 239 F.R.D. at 214; Illustrative Rule 2(j).
15 ~~Even when a complaint is filed by someone other than the chief judge, the complainant~~ 16 ~~lacks many rights that a litigant would have, and the chief judge, instead of being limited~~
17 ~~to the “four corners of the complaint,” must, under Rule 11, proceed as though~~ 18 ~~misconduct or disability has been alleged where~~ Where the complainant reveals 19 information of misconduct or disability but does not claim it as such, the chief judge is 20 not limited to the “four corners of the complaint” and should proceed under Rule 5 to 21 determine whether identification of a complaint is appropriate. See Breyer Committee 22 Report, 239 F.R.D. at 183–84.

23 An allegation of misconduct or disability filed under Rule 6 is a “complaint,” and 24 the Rule so provides in subsection (c)(1). However, both the nature of the process and 25 the use of the term “identify” suggest that the word “complaint” covers more than a 26 document formally triggering the process. The process relies on chief judges 27 considering known information and triggering the process when appropriate.
28 “Identifying” a “complaint,” therefore, is best understood as the chief judge’s concluding 29 that information known to the judge constitutes probable cause to believe that 30 misconduct occurred or a disability exists, whether or not the information is framed as, 31 or intended to be, an accusation. This definition is codified in subsection (c)(2).

32 ~~———— Rule 3(e) relates to disability and provides only the most general definition,~~
33 ~~recognizing that a fact-specific approach is the only one available. A mental disability~~ 34 ~~could involve cognitive impairment or any psychiatric or psychological condition that~~ 35 ~~renders the judge unable to discharge the duties of office. Such duties may include~~
36 ~~those that are administrative. If, for example, the judge is a chief judge, the judicial~~ 37 ~~council, fulfilling its obligation under 28 U.S.C. § 332(d)(1) to make “necessary and~~ 38 ~~appropriate orders for the effective and expeditious administration of justice,” may find,~~ 39 ~~under 28 U.S.C. § 45(d) or § 136(e), that the judge is “temporarily unable to perform” his~~ 40 ~~or her chief-judge duties. In that event, an appropriate remedy could involve, under~~ 41 ~~Rule 20(b)(1)(D)(vii), temporary reassignment of chief-judge duties to the next judge~~
42 ~~statutorily eligible to perform them.~~

1 ———The phrase “prejudicial to the effective and expeditious administration of the 2 business of the courts” is not subject to precise definition, and subsection (h)(1) 3 therefore provides some specific examples. Although the Code of Conduct for United 4 States Judges may be informative, its main precepts are highly general; the Code is in 5 many potential applications aspirational rather than a set of disciplinary rules.
6 Ultimately, the responsibility for determining what constitutes misconduct under the 7 statute is the province of the judicial council of the circuit, subject to such review and 8 limitations as are ordained by the statute and by these Rules.

9 ———Even where specific, mandatory rules exist—for example, governing the receipt 10 of gifts by judges, outside earned income, and financial disclosure obligations—the 11 distinction between the misconduct statute and these specific, mandatory rules must be 12 borne in mind. For example, an inadvertent, minor violation of any one of these rules, 13 promptly remedied when called to the attention of the judge, might still be a violation but 14 might not rise to the level of misconduct under the statute. By contrast, a pattern of 15 such violations of the Code might well rise to the level of misconduct.

16 Rule 3(h)(1)(E) provides expressly that a judge’s unwanted or abusive sexual or 17 sex-based conduct by a judge, including sexual harassment or assault, or sex- or 18 gender-based discrimination, constitutes cognizable misconduct. The Rule recognizes 19 that anyone can be a victim of sexual or sex-based misconduct, regardless of their sex 20 and of the sex of the judge engaging in the misconduct.

21 Rules 3(h)(1)(D), (E), and (F) The Rule reflects the Judiciary’s commitment to 22 maintaining a work environment in which all people are treated with dignity, fairness, 23 and respect, and are free from discrimination and harassment. See Code of Conduct 24 for U.S. Judges, Canon 3A(3) cmt. (“The duty to be respectful includes the responsibility 25 to avoid comment or behavior that could reasonably be interpreted as harassment, 26 prejudice or bias.”); cf. Guide to Judiciary Policy, vol. 12, ch. 2 § 220(a) (“Discrimination 27 or harassment directed at a judiciary employee due to race, color, religion, national 28 origin, sex, age, or disability is prohibited in accordance with the long-standing national 29 policy of the judiciary to promote equal employment opportunity.”). Judiciary employees 30 include interns, externs, and other volunteer employees. See Code of Conduct for 31 Judicial Employees, Overview (“This Code of Conduct applies to all employees of the 32 judicial branch including interns, externs, and other volunteer court employees”); 33 Guide to Judiciary Policy, vol. 12, ch. 5 § 550.45.10(a)(3) (“A volunteer is to be treated 34 as an employee of the judiciary, albeit an uncompensated one. This is designed to 35 protect both the volunteer and the judiciary.”). Other avenues might be available to a 36 Judiciary employee to address unwanted or abusive conduct by a judge.

37 ———Under Rule 3(h)(1)(GHI), a judge’s efforts to retaliate against any person for 38 reporting or disclosing misconduct, otherwise participating in his or her involvement in the 39 complaint process, or other impermissible reasons may constitute cognizable 40 misconduct. Other impermissible reasons include, but are not limited to, an individual’s 41 refusal to submit to an unwanted sexual advance. The Rule makes this prohibition

1 ~~against retaliation~~ explicit in the interest of ~~promoting~~ public confidence in the complaint 2 ~~process.~~

3 ~~———— Rule 3(h)(1)(HJ) provides that a judge’s refusal, without good cause shown, to~~ 4 ~~cooperate in the investigation of a complaint or enforcement of a decision rendered~~ 5 ~~under these Rules may constitute~~ ~~constitutes~~ cognizable misconduct. ~~While the~~ 6 ~~exercise of rights under the Fifth Amendment to the Constitution would constitute good~~
7 ~~cause under Rule 3(h)(1)(HJ), given the fact-specific nature of the inquiry, it is not~~
8 ~~possible to otherwise anticipate all circumstances that might also constitute good cause.~~
9 ~~The Commentary on Rule 13 provides additional discussion regarding Rule 3(h)(1)(HJ).~~
10 ~~The Rules contemplate that judicial councils will not consider commencing proceedings~~ 11 ~~under Rule 3(h)(1)(HJ) except as necessary after other means to acquire the~~ 12 ~~information or enforce a decision have been tried or have proven futile.~~

13 ~~———— Rule 3(h)(2) reflects that an allegation can meet the statutory standard even~~ 14 ~~though the judge’s alleged conduct did not occur in the course of the performance of~~ 15 ~~official duties. And some conduct in the categories listed under subsection (h)(1), or in~~ 16 ~~categories not listed, might depending on the circumstances amount to “misconduct”~~ 17 ~~under subsection (h)(2), or under both subsection (h)(1) and subsection (h)(2). Also,~~ 18 ~~the Code of Conduct for United States Judges expressly covers a wide range of~~ 19 ~~extra-official activities, and some of these activities may constitute misconduct. For~~ 20 ~~example, allegations that a judge solicited funds for a charity or participated in a~~
21 ~~partisan political event are cognizable under the Act.~~

22 ~~———— On the other hand, judges are entitled to some leeway in extra-official activities.~~
23 ~~For example, misconduct may not include a judge being repeatedly and publicly~~
24 ~~discourteous to a spouse (not including physical abuse) even though this might cause~~
25 ~~some reasonable people to have diminished confidence in the courts. Rule 3(h)(2)~~
26 ~~states that conduct of this sort is covered, for example, when it might lead to a~~
27 ~~“substantial and widespread” lowering of such confidence.~~

28 ~~———— Rule 3(h)(3)(A) tracks the Act, 28 U.S.C. § 352(b)(1)(A)(ii), in excluding from the~~ 29 ~~definition of misconduct allegations “[d]irectly related to the merits of a decision or~~ 30 ~~procedural ruling.” This exclusion preserves the independence of judges in the exercise~~ 31 ~~of judicial power by ensuring that the complaint procedure is not used to collaterally~~ 32 ~~attack the substance of a judge’s ruling. Any allegation that calls into question the~~ 33 ~~correctness of an official action of a judge — without more — is merits-related. The~~ 34 ~~phrase “decision or procedural ruling” is not limited to rulings issued in deciding Article~~
35 ~~III cases or controversies. Thus, a complaint challenging the correctness of a chief~~
36 ~~judge’s determination to dismiss a prior misconduct complaint would be properly~~ 37 ~~dismissed as merits-related — in other words, as challenging the substance of the~~ 38 ~~judge’s administrative determination to dismiss the complaint — even though it does not~~
39 ~~concern the judge’s rulings in Article III litigation. Similarly, an allegation that a judge~~ 40 ~~had incorrectly declined to approve a Criminal Justice Act voucher is merits-related~~ 41 ~~under this standard.~~

1 ~~—————Conversely, an allegation — however unsupported — that a judge conspired with~~
2 ~~a prosecutor to make a particular ruling is not merits-related, even though it “relates” to~~
3 ~~a ruling in a colloquial sense. Such an allegation attacks the propriety of conspiring with~~ 4 ~~the prosecutor and goes beyond a challenge to the correctness — “the merits” — of the~~ 5 ~~ruling itself. An allegation that a judge ruled against the complainant because the~~ 6 ~~complainant is a member of a particular racial or ethnic group, or because the judge~~
7 ~~dislikes the complainant personally, is also not merits-related. Such an allegation~~
8 ~~attacks the propriety of arriving at rulings with an illicit or improper motive. Similarly, an~~ 9 ~~allegation that a judge used an inappropriate term to refer to a class of people is not~~ 10 ~~merits-related even if the judge used it on the bench or in an opinion; the correctness of~~ 11 ~~the judge’s rulings is not at stake. An allegation that a judge treated litigants or,~~ 12 ~~attorneys, Judiciary employees, or others (including Judiciary employees) in a~~ 13 ~~demonstrably egregious and hostile manner while on the bench or in chambers is also~~ 14 ~~not merits-related.~~

15 ~~—————The existence of an appellate remedy is usually irrelevant to whether an~~ 16 ~~allegation is merits-related. The merits-related ground for dismissal exists to protect~~ 17 ~~judges’ independence in making rulings, not to protect or promote the appellate~~ 18 ~~process. A complaint alleging an incorrect ruling is merits-related even though the~~ 19 ~~complainant has no recourse from that ruling. By the same token, an allegation that is~~ 20 ~~otherwise cognizable under the Act should not be dismissed merely because an~~ 21 ~~appellate remedy appears to exist (for example, vacating a ruling that resulted from an~~ 22 ~~improper ex parte communication). However, there may be occasions when appellate~~ 23 ~~and misconduct proceedings overlap, and consideration and disposition of a complaint~~
24 ~~under these Rules may be properly deferred by the chief judge until the appellate~~ 25 ~~proceedings are concluded in order to avoid, inter alia, inconsistent decisions.~~

26 ~~—————Because of the special need to protect judges’ independence in deciding what to~~ 27 ~~say in an opinion or ruling, a somewhat different standard applies to determine the~~ 28 ~~merits-relatedness of a non-frivolous allegation that a judge’s language in a ruling~~
29 ~~reflected an improper motive. If the judge’s language was relevant to the case at~~ 30 ~~hand — for example, a statement that a claim is legally or factually “frivolous” — then~~ 31 ~~the judge’s choice of language is presumptively merits-related and excluded, absent~~
32 ~~evidence apart from the ruling itself suggesting an improper motive. If, on the other~~ 33 ~~hand, the challenged language does not seem relevant on its face, then an additional~~ 34 ~~inquiry under Rule 11 is necessary.~~

35 ~~—————With regard to Rule 3(h)(3)(B), a complaint of delay in a single case is excluded~~ 36 ~~as merits-related. Such an allegation may be said to challenge the correctness of an~~ 37 ~~official action of the judge — in other words, assigning a low priority to deciding the~~ 38 ~~particular case. But, by the same token, an allegation of a habitual pattern of delay in a~~ 39 ~~significant number of unrelated cases, or an allegation of deliberate delay in a single~~ 40 ~~case arising out of an illicit motive, is not merits-related.~~

41 The remaining subsections of Rule 3 provide technical definitions clarifying the 42 application of the Rules ~~to the various kinds of courts covered.~~

ARTICLE II. MISCONDUCT AND DISABILITY

4. Covered Judges

~~A complaint under these Rules may concern the actions or capacity only of judges of United States courts of appeals, judges of United States district courts, judges of United States bankruptcy courts, United States magistrate judges, and judges of the courts specified in 28 U.S.C. § 363.~~

Misconduct and Disability Definitions

(a) Misconduct Generally. Cognizable Misconduct: is conduct prejudicial to the effective and expeditious administration of the business of the courts. Cognizable Misconduct misconduct includes, but is not limited to, the following:

(1) Violation of Specific Standards of Judicial Conduct. Cognizable misconduct includes:

(A) using the judge's office to obtain special treatment for friends or relatives;

(B) accepting bribes, gifts, or other personal favors related to the judicial office;

(C) having engaging in improper discussions ex parte communications with parties or counsel for one side in a case;

(D) treating litigants, attorneys, or others in a demonstrably egregious and hostile manner;

(E)(D) engaging in partisan political activity or making inappropriately partisan statements;

(F)(E) soliciting funds for organizations;

(G) retaliating against complainants, witnesses, or others for their participation in this complaint process;

(H) refusing, without good cause shown, to cooperate in the investigation of a complaint under these Rules; or

(I)(F) violating other specific, mandatory rules or standards of judicial conduct, such as those pertaining to restrictions on outside income and requirements for financial disclosure; or

(G) violating requirements for financial disclosure.

(2) Abusive or Harassing Behavior. Cognizable misconduct includes:

(A) engaging in unwanted, offensive, or abusive sexual conduct, including sexual harassment or assault;

(B) treating litigants, attorneys, judicial employees, or others in a demonstrably egregious and hostile manner; or

(C) creating a hostile work environment for judicial employees.

(3) Discrimination. Cognizable misconduct includes discrimination on the basis of race, sex, gender, gender identity, pregnancy, sexual orientation, religion, national origin, age, or disability;

(4) Retaliation. Cognizable misconduct includes retaliating against complainants, witnesses, judicial employees, or others for their participation participating in this complaint process, or for reporting or disclosing judicial misconduct;

(5) Interference or Failure to Comply with the Complaint Process. Cognizable misconduct includes refusing, without good cause shown, to cooperate in the investigation of a complaint or enforcement of a decision rendered under these Rules; or

(6) Failure to Report or Disclose. Cognizable misconduct includes failing to call to the attention of the relevant chief district judge and chief circuit judge information reasonably likely to constitute judicial misconduct or disability. A judge who receives such information shall respect a request for confidentiality but shall disclose the information to the chief district judge and chief circuit judge, who shall also treat the information as confidential. Some information will be protected from disclosure by statute or rule. A judge’s promise of confidentiality may necessarily yield when there is information of misconduct that is serious or egregious and thus threatens the integrity and proper functioning of the judiciary. This duty to report is included within every judge’s obligation to assist in addressing allegations of misconduct or disability and to take appropriate corrective action as necessary.

(7) Conduct Outside the Performance of Official Duties.

Cognizable misconduct includes conduct occurring outside the performance of official duties if the conduct might have a prejudicial effect on the administration of the business of the courts, including a substantial and widespread lowering of public confidence in the courts among reasonable people.

(b) Conduct Not Constituting Cognizable Misconduct.

(1) Allegations related to the merits of a decision or procedural ruling. Cognizable misconduct does not include: an allegation that calls into question the correctness of a judge’s ruling, including a failure to recuse, without more, is merits-related. If the decision or ruling is alleged to be the result of an improper motive, e.g., a bribe, ex parte contact, racial or ethnic bias, or improper conduct in rendering a decision or ruling, such as personally derogatory remarks irrelevant to the issues, the complaint is not cognizable to the extent that it attacks calls into question the merits of the decision.

(2) Allegations about delay. Cognizable misconduct does not include an allegation about delay in rendering a decision or ruling, unless the allegation concerns an improper motive in delaying a particular decision or habitual delay in a significant number of unrelated cases.

(c) Disability. “Disability” is a temporary or permanent impairment, physical or mental, rendering a judge unable to discharge the duties of the particular judicial office. Examples of disability include substance abuse, the inability to stay awake during court proceedings, or impairment of cognitive abilities that renders the judge unable to function effectively.

COMMENTARY ON RULE 4

~~—This Rule tracks the Act. Rule 8(c) and (d) contain provisions as to the handling of complaints against persons not covered by the Act, such as other court personnel, or against both covered judges and noncovered persons.~~

The phrase “prejudicial to the effective and expeditious administration of the business of the courts” is not subject to precise definition, and subsection ~~(h)(1)~~ (a) therefore provides some specific examples. 28 U.S.C. § 351(a). The Code of Conduct

1 for United States Judges sets forth behavioral guidelines for judges. Although the Code 2 of Conduct for United States Judges may be informative, its main precepts are highly 3 general; the Code is in many potential applications aspirational rather than a set of 4 disciplinary rules. Ultimately, While the Code's Canons are informative, ultimately the 5 responsibility for determining what constitutes cognizable misconduct under the statute 6 is the province of the judicial council of the circuit, subject to such review and limitations 7 as are ordained by the statute and by is determined by the Act and these Rules, as 8 interpreted and applied by judicial councils, subject to review and limitations prescribed 9 by the Act and these Rules.

10 Even where specific, mandatory rules exist — for example, governing the receipt 11 of gifts by judges, outside earned income, and financial disclosure obligations — the 12 distinction between the misconduct statute and these specific, mandatory rules must be 13 borne in mind. For example, an inadvertent, minor violation of any one of these rules, 14 promptly remedied when called to the attention of the judge, might still be a violation but 15 might not rise to the level of misconduct under the statute Act. By contrast, a pattern of 16 such violations of the Code might well rise to the level of misconduct.

17 Rule 4(a)(2)(A) provides expressly that unwanted, offensive, or abusive sexual 18 conduct by a judge, including sexual harassment or assault, constitutes cognizable 19 misconduct. The Rule recognizes that anyone can be a victim of unwanted, offensive, 20 or abusive sexual conduct, regardless of their sex and of the sex of the judge engaging 21 in the misconduct.

22 The prohibition of discrimination contained in Rule 4(a)(3) includes discrimination 23 based on race, sex, gender or gender identity, pregnancy, sexual orientation, religion, 24 national origin, age, or disability. The enumerated grounds for discrimination and 25 harassment contained in Rule 4(a)(3) are not intended to be exhaustive.

26 Under Rule 3(h)(1)(G) 4(a)(4), a judge's efforts to retaliate against any person for 27 reporting or disclosing misconduct, or otherwise participating in the his or her 28 involvement in the complaint process may constitute cognizable misconduct. The Rule 29 makes this the prohibition against retaliation explicit in the interest of promoting public 30 confidence in the complaint process.

31 Rules 4(a)(2), (3), and (4) reflect the judiciary's commitment to maintaining a 32 work environment in which all judicial employees are treated with dignity, fairness, and 33 respect, and are free from harassment, discrimination, and retaliation. See Code of 34 Conduct for U.S. Judges, Canon 3A(3) cmt. ("The duty to be respectful includes the 35 responsibility to avoid comment or behavior that could reasonably be interpreted as 36 harassment, prejudice or bias."); Guide to Judiciary Policy, vol. 12, ch. 2 § 220(a) 37 ("Discrimination or harassment directed at a judiciary employee due to race, color, 38 religion, national origin, sex, age, or disability is prohibited in accordance with the long-39 standing national policy of the judiciary to promote equal employment opportunity.").

1 Rule 3(h)(1)(H) 4(a)(5) provides that a judge's refusal, without good cause 2 shown, to cooperate in the investigation of a complaint or enforcement of a decision 3 rendered under these Rules may constitute cognizable misconduct. While the 4 exercise of rights under the Fifth Amendment to the Constitution would constitute good 5 cause under 3(h)(1)(H) 4(a)(5), given the fact-specific nature of the inquiry, it is not 6 possible to otherwise anticipate all circumstances that might also constitute good cause.
7 The Commentary on Rule 13 provides additional discussion regarding Rule 3(h)(1)(H)
8 4(a)(5). The Rules contemplate that judicial councils will not consider commencing 9 proceedings under Rule 3(h)(1)(H) 4(a)(5) except as necessary after other means to 10 acquire the information or enforce a decision have been tried or have proven futile.

11 All judges have a duty to bring to the attention of the relevant chief district judge 12 and chief circuit judge information reasonably likely to constitute judicial misconduct or 13 disability. See Rule 4(a)(6). This duty is included within every judge's obligation to 14 assist in addressing allegations of misconduct or disability and to take appropriate 15 corrective action as necessary. Public confidence in the integrity and impartiality of the 16 judiciary is promoted when judges take appropriate action based on reliable evidence of 17 likely misconduct. Appropriate action depends on the circumstances, but the 18 overarching goal of such action should be to prevent harm to those affected by the 19 misconduct and to prevent recurrence. These Rules incorporate those principles while 20 allowing for appropriate, expeditious, fair, and effective resolutions of all such 21 complaints.

22 The formal procedures outlined in these Rules are intended to address serious 23 issues of judicial misconduct and disability. By statute and rule, the chief circuit judge 24 administers the misconduct and disability complaint process, including the authority to 25 investigate an allegation and, if warranted, to identify a formal complaint. See Rule 5.

26 In practice, however, not all allegations of misconduct or disability will warrant 27 resort to the formal procedures outlined in these Rules because they appear likely to 28 yield to effective, prompt resolution through informal corrective action. In such cases, 29 allegations may initially be addressed to the chief district judge or the chief circuit judge 30 to determine whether informal corrective action will suffice and to initiate such steps as 31 promptly as is reasonable under the circumstances.

32 "A judge, in deciding what action is appropriate, may take into account any 33 request for confidentiality made by a person complaining of or reporting misconduct."
34 Code of Conduct for United States Judges, Canon 3B(6) cmt.

35 Rule 3(h)(2) 4(a)(7) reflects that an allegation can meet the statutory standard for 36 misconduct even though the judge's alleged conduct did not occur in the course of the 37 performance of official duties. And some conduct in the categories listed under 38 subsection (h)(1), or in categories not listed, might depending on the circumstances 39 amount to "misconduct" under subsection (h)(2), or under both subsection (h)(1) and 40 subsection (h)(2). Also, The Code of Conduct for United States Judges expressly 41 covers a wide range of extra-official activities, and some of these activities may

1 constitute misconduct under the Act and these Rules. For example, allegations that a 2 judge solicited funds for a charity or other organization or participated in a partisan 3 political event are cognizable under the Act even though they did not occur in the 4 course of the performance of the judge's official duties.

5 On the other hand, judges are entitled to some leeway in extra-official activities.
6 For example, misconduct may not include a judge being repeatedly and publicly 7 discourteous to a spouse (not including physical abuse) even though this might cause
8 some reasonable people to have diminished confidence in the courts. Rule 3(h)(2) 9 states that conduct of this sort is covered, for example, when it might lead to a 10 "substantial and widespread" lowering of such confidence.

11 Rule 3(h)(3)(A) 4(b)(1) tracks the Act, 28 U.S.C. § 352(b)(1)(A)(ii), in excluding 12 from the definition of misconduct allegations "[d]irectly related to the merits of a decision 13 or procedural ruling." This exclusion preserves the independence of judges in the 14 exercise of judicial power authority by ensuring that the complaint procedure is not used 15 to collaterally attack call into question the substance of a judge's decision or procedural 16 ruling. Any allegation that calls into question the correctness of an official action 17 decision or procedural ruling of a judge — without more — is merits-related. The 18 phrase "decision or procedural ruling" is not limited to rulings issued in deciding Article
19 III cases or controversies. Thus, a complaint challenging the correctness of a chief 20 judge's determination to dismiss a prior misconduct complaint would be properly 21 dismissed as merits-related — in other words, as challenging the substance of the 22 judge's administrative determination to dismiss the complaint — even though it does not 23 concern the judge's rulings in Article III litigation. Similarly, an allegation that a judge 24 incorrectly declined to approve a Criminal Justice Act voucher is merits-related under 25 this standard.

26 Conversely, an allegation — however unsupported — that a judge conspired with 27 a prosecutor to make a particular ruling is not merits-related, even though it "relates" to 28 a ruling in a colloquial sense. Such an allegation attacks the propriety of conspiring with 29 the prosecutor and goes beyond a challenge to the correctness — "the merits" — of the 30 ruling itself. An allegation that a judge ruled against the complainant because the 31 complainant is a member of a particular racial or ethnic group, or because the judge
32 dislikes the complainant personally, is also not merits-related. Such an allegation 33 attacks the propriety of arriving at rulings with an illicit or improper motive. Similarly, an 34 allegation that a judge used an inappropriate term to refer to a class of people is not 35 merits-related even if the judge used it on the bench or in an opinion; the correctness of 36 the judge's rulings is not at stake. An allegation that a judge treated litigants or, 37 attorneys, judicial employees, or others in a demonstrably egregious and hostile manner 38 while on the bench is also not merits-related.

39 The existence of an appellate remedy is usually irrelevant to whether an 40 allegation is merits-related. The merits-related ground for dismissal exists to protect 41 judges' independence in making rulings, not to protect or promote the appellate 42 process. A complaint alleging an incorrect ruling is merits-related even though the

2 otherwise cognizable under the Act should not be dismissed merely because an 3 appellate remedy appears to exist (for example, vacating a ruling that resulted from an 4 improper ex parte communication). However, there may be occasions when appellate 5 and misconduct proceedings overlap, and consideration and disposition of a complaint
6 under these Rules may be properly deferred by the chief judge until the appellate 7 proceedings are concluded to avoid, inter alia, inconsistent decisions.

8 Because of the special need to protect judges' independence in deciding what to 9 say in an opinion or ruling, a somewhat different standard applies to determine the 10 merits-relatedness of a non-frivolous allegation that a judge's language in a ruling 11 reflected an improper motive. If the judge's language was relevant to the case at 12 hand — for example, a statement that a claim is legally or factually "frivolous" — then 13 the judge's choice of language is presumptively merits-related and excluded, absent
14 evidence apart from the ruling itself suggesting an improper motive. If, on the other 15 hand, the challenged language does not seem relevant on its face, then an additional 16 inquiry under Rule 11(b) is necessary.

17 With regard to Rule 3(h)(3)(B) 4(b)(2), a complaint of delay in a single case is 18 excluded as merits-related. Such an allegation may be said to challenge the 19 correctness of an official action of the judge — in other words, i.e., assigning a low 20 priority to deciding the particular case. But, by the same token, an allegation of a 21 habitual pattern of delay in a significant number of unrelated cases, or an allegation of 22 deliberate delay in a single case arising out of an illicit improper motive, is not merits-23 related.

24 Rule 3(e) 4(c) relates to disability and provides only the most general definition, 25 recognizing that a fact-specific approach is the only one available. A mental disability 26 could involve cognitive impairment or any psychiatric or psychological condition that 27 renders the judge unable to discharge the duties of office. Such duties may include 28 those that are administrative. If, for example, the judge is a chief judge, the judicial 29 council, fulfilling its obligation under 28 U.S.C. § 332(d)(1) to make "necessary and 30 appropriate orders for the effective and expeditious administration of justice," may find, 31 under 28 U.S.C. § 45(d) or § 136(e), that the judge is "temporarily unable to perform" his 32 or her chief-judge duties. In that event, an appropriate remedy could involve, under 33 Rule 20(b)(1)(D)(vii), temporary reassignment of chief-judge duties to the next judge 34 statutorily eligible to perform them.

35 Confidentiality as referenced elsewhere in these Rules is directed toward 36 protecting the fairness and thoroughness of the process by which a complaint is filed or 37 initiated, investigated (in specific circumstances), and ultimately resolved, as specified 38 under these Rules. Nothing in these Rules concerning the confidentiality of the 39 complaint process or the Code of Conduct for Judicial Employees concerning use or 40 disclosure of confidential information received in the course of official duties prevents 41 judicial employees from reporting or disclosing misconduct. See Rule 23(c).

1 ARTICLE III. INITIATION OF COMPLAINT

2 5. Identification of Complaint

3 (a) Identification. When a chief judge has information constituting 4 reasonable grounds for inquiry into whether a covered judge has 5 engaged in misconduct or has a disability, the chief judge may 6 conduct an inquiry, as he or she deems appropriate, into the 7 accuracy of the information even if no related complaint has been 8 filed. A chief judge who finds probable cause to believe that 9 misconduct has occurred or that a disability exists may seek an 10 informal resolution that he or she finds satisfactory. If no informal 11 resolution is achieved or is feasible, the chief judge may identify a 12 complaint and, by written order stating the reasons, begin the review 13 provided in Rule 11. If the evidence of misconduct is clear and 14 convincing and no informal resolution is achieved or is feasible, the 15 chief judge must identify a complaint. A chief judge must not decline 16 to identify a complaint merely because the person making the 17 allegation has not filed a complaint under Rule 6. This Rule is 18 subject to Rule 7.

19 (b) Submission Not Fully Complying with Rule 6. A legible submission 20 in substantial but not full compliance with Rule 6 must be considered 21 as possible grounds for the identification of a complaint under Rule 22 5(a).

24 This Rule is adapted from the Breyer Committee Report, 239 F.R.D. at 245–46.

25 The Act authorizes a chief judge, by written order stating reasons, to identify a 26 complaint and thereby dispense with the filing of a written complaint. See 28 U.S.C.
 27 § 351(b). Under Rule 5, when a chief judge becomes aware of information constituting 28 reasonable grounds to inquire into possible misconduct or disability on the part of a 29 covered judge, and no formal complaint has been filed, the chief judge has the power in 30 his or her discretion to begin an appropriate inquiry. A chief judge’s decision whether to 31 informally seek a resolution and/or to identify a complaint is guided by the results of that 32 inquiry. If the chief judge concludes that there is probable cause to believe that 33 misconduct has occurred or a disability exists, the chief judge may seek an informal 34 resolution, if feasible, and if failing in that, may identify a complaint. Discretion is 35 accorded largely for the reasons police officers and prosecutors have discretion in 36 making arrests or bringing charges. The matter may be trivial and isolated, based on 37 marginal evidence, or otherwise highly unlikely to lead to a misconduct or disability 38 finding. On the other hand, if the inquiry leads the chief judge to conclude that there is 39 clear and convincing evidence of misconduct or a disability, and no satisfactory informal

1 resolution has been achieved or is feasible, the chief judge is required to identify a 2 complaint.

3 An informal resolution is one agreed to by the subject judge and found 4 satisfactory by the chief judge. Because an informal resolution under Rule 5 reached 5 before a complaint is filed under Rule 6 will generally cause a subsequent Rule 6 6 complaint alleging the identical matter to be concluded, see Rule 11(d), the chief judge 7 must be sure that the resolution is fully appropriate before endorsing it. In doing so, the 8 chief judge must balance the seriousness of the matter against the particular judge's 9 alacrity in addressing the issue. The availability of this procedure should encourage 10 attempts at swift remedial action before a formal complaint is filed.

11 When a chief judge identifies a complaint, a written order stating the reasons for 12 the identification must be provided; this begins the process articulated in Rule 11. Rule 13 11 provides that once a chief judge has identified a complaint, the chief judge, subject to 14 the disqualification provisions of Rule 25, will perform, with respect to that complaint, all 15 functions assigned to the chief judge for the determination of complaints filed by a 16 complainant.

17 In high-visibility situations, it may be desirable for a chief judge to identify a 18 complaint without first seeking an informal resolution (and then, if the circumstances 19 warrant, dismiss or conclude the identified complaint without appointment of a special 20 committee) in order to assure the public that the allegations have not been ignored.

21 A chief judge's decision not to identify a complaint under Rule 5 is not appealable 22 and is subject to Rule ~~3(h)(3)(A)~~ 4(b)(1), which excludes merits-related complaints from 23 the definition of misconduct.

24 A chief judge may not decline to identify a complaint solely on the basis that the 25 unfiled allegations could be raised by one or more persons in a filed complaint, but none 26 of these persons has opted to do so.

27 Subsection (a) concludes by stating that this Rule is "subject to Rule 7." This is 28 intended to establish that only (i) the chief judge of the home circuit of a potential 29 subject judge, or (ii) the chief judge of a circuit in which misconduct is alleged to have 30 occurred in the course of official business while the potential subject judge was sitting 31 by designation, shall have the power or a duty under this Rule to identify a complaint.

32 Subsection (b) provides that submissions that do not comply with the 33 requirements of Rule 6(d) must be considered under Rule 5(a). For instance, if a 34 complaint has been filed but the form submitted is unsigned, or the truth of the 35 statements therein are not verified in writing under penalty of perjury, then a chief judge 36 must nevertheless consider the allegations as known information and as a possible 37 basis for the identification of a complaint under the process described in Rule 5(a).

1 6. Filing of Complaint

2 (a) Form. A complainant may use the form reproduced in the appendix 3 to these Rules or a form designated by the rules of the judicial 4 council in the circuit in which the complaint is filed. A complaint 5 form is also available on each court of appeals’ website or may be 6 obtained from the circuit clerk or any district court or bankruptcy 7 court within the circuit. A form is not necessary to file a complaint, 8 but the complaint must be written and must include the information 9 described in (b).

10 (b) Brief Statement of Facts. A complaint must contain a concise 11 statement that details the specific facts on which the claim of 12 misconduct or disability is based. The statement of facts should 13 include a description of:

14 (1) what happened;

15 (2) when and where the relevant events happened;

16 (3) any information that would help an investigator check the 17 facts; and

18 (4) for an allegation of disability, any additional facts that form the 19 basis of that allegation.

20 (c) Legibility. A complaint should be typewritten if possible. If not 21 typewritten, it must be legible. An illegible complaint will be returned 22 to the complainant with a request to resubmit it in legible form. If a 23 resubmitted complaint is still illegible, it will not be accepted for 24 filing.

25 (d) Complainant’s Address and Signature; Verification. The complainant 26 must provide a contact address and sign the complaint. The truth of 27 the statements made in the complaint must be verified in writing 28 under penalty of perjury. If any of these requirements are not met, 29 the submission will be accepted, but it will be reviewed under only 30 Rule 5(b).

31 (e) Number of Copies; Envelope Marking. The complainant shall 32 provide the number of copies of the complaint required by local rule.
33 Each copy should be in an envelope marked “Complaint of 34 Misconduct” or “Complaint of Disability.” The envelope must not 35 show the name of any subject judge.

The Rule is adapted from the Illustrative Rules and is largely self-explanatory. As discussed in the Commentary to Rule 4 and in Rule 23(c), confidentiality as referenced elsewhere in these Rules does not prevent judicial employees from reporting or disclosing misconduct. See Rule 23(c).

7. Where to Initiate Complaint

(a) Where to File. Except as provided in (b),

- (1) a complaint against a judge of a United States court of appeals, a United States district court, a United States bankruptcy court, or a United States magistrate judge must be filed with the circuit clerk in the jurisdiction in which the subject judge holds office.
- (2) a complaint against a judge of the United States Court of International Trade or the United States Court of Federal Claims must be filed with the respective clerk of that court.
- (3) a complaint against a judge of the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit must be filed with the circuit executive of that court.

(b) Misconduct in Another Circuit; Transfer. If a complaint alleges misconduct in the course of official business while the subject judge was sitting on a court by designation under 28 U.S.C. §§ 291–293 and 294(d), the complaint may be filed or identified with the circuit clerk of that circuit or of the subject judge’s home circuit. The proceeding will continue in the circuit of the first-filed or first-identified complaint. The judicial council of the circuit where the complaint was first filed or first identified may transfer the complaint to the subject judge’s home circuit or to the circuit where the alleged misconduct occurred, as the case may be.

COMMENTARY ON RULE 7

Title 28 U.S.C. § 351 states that complaints are to be filed with “the clerk of the court of appeals for the circuit.” However, in many circuits, this role is filled by circuit executives. Accordingly, the term “circuit clerk,” as defined in Rule 3(b) and used throughout these Rules, applies to circuit executives.

Section 351 uses the term “the circuit” in a way that suggests that either the home circuit of the subject judge or the circuit in which misconduct is alleged to have occurred is the proper venue for complaints. With an exception for judges sitting by designation, the Rule requires the filing or identification of a misconduct or disability complaint in the circuit in which the judge holds office, largely based on the administrative perspective of the Act. Given the Act’s emphasis on the future conduct of

1 the business of the courts, the circuit in which the judge holds office is the appropriate 2 forum because that circuit is likely best able to influence a judge’s future behavior in 3 constructive ways.

4 However, when judges sit by designation, the non-home circuit has a strong 5 interest in redressing misconduct in the course of official business, and where 6 allegations also involve a member of the bar — ex parte contact between an attorney 7 and a judge, for example — it may often be desirable to have the judicial and bar 8 misconduct proceedings take place in the same venue. Rule 7(b), therefore, allows 9 transfer to, or filing or identification of a complaint in, the non-home circuit. The 10 proceeding may be transferred by the judicial council of the filing or identified circuit to 11 the other circuit.

12 8. Action by Circuit Clerk

13 (a) Receipt of Complaint. Upon receiving a complaint against a judge 14 filed under Rule 6 or identified under Rule 5, the circuit clerk must 15 open a file, assign a docket number according to a uniform 16 numbering scheme promulgated by the Committee on Judicial 17 Conduct and Disability, and acknowledge the complaint’s receipt.

18 (b) Distribution of Copies. The circuit clerk must promptly send copies 19 of a complaint filed under Rule 6 to the chief judge or, where the 20 chief judge is disqualified from considering a complaint, to the judge 21 authorized to act as chief judge under Rule 25(f), and copies of 22 complaints filed under Rule 6 or identified under Rule 5 to each 23 subject judge. The circuit clerk must retain the original complaint.
24 Any further distribution should be as provided by local rule.

25 (c) Complaint Against Noncovered Person. If the circuit clerk receives a 26 complaint about a person not holding an office described in Rule 4, 27 the clerk must not accept the complaint under these Rules.

28 (d) Complaint Against Judge and Another Noncovered Person. If the 29 circuit clerk receives a complaint about a judge described in Rule 4 30 and a person not holding an office described in Rule 4, the clerk 31 must accept the complaint under these Rules only with regard to the 32 judge and must so inform the complainant.

34 This Rule is adapted from the Illustrative Rules and is largely self-explanatory.

35 The uniform docketing scheme described in subsection (a) should take into 36 account potential problems associated with a complaint that names multiple judges.
37 One solution may be to provide separate docket numbers for each subject judge.

1 Separate docket numbers would help avoid difficulties in tracking cases, particularly if a 2 complaint is dismissed with respect to some, but not all of the named judges.

3 Complaints against noncovered persons are not to be accepted for processing 4 under these Rules but may, of course, be accepted under other circuit rules or 5 procedures for grievances.

6 9. Time for Filing or Identifying Complaint

7 A complaint may be filed or identified at any time. If the passage of time has 8 made an accurate and fair investigation of a complaint impracticable, the 9 complaint must be dismissed under Rule 11(c)(1)(E).

10 COMMENTARY ON RULE 9

11 This Rule is adapted from the Act, 28 U.S.C. §§ 351, 352(b)(1)(A)(iii), and the 12 Illustrative Rules.

13 10. Abuse of Complaint Procedure

14 (a) Abusive Complaints. A complainant who has filed repetitive, 15 harassing, or frivolous complaints, or has otherwise abused the 16 complaint procedure, may be restricted from filing further 17 complaints. After giving the complainant an opportunity to show 18 cause in writing why his or her right to file further complaints should 19 not be limited, the judicial council may prohibit, restrict, or impose 20 conditions on the complainant's use of the complaint procedure.
21 Upon written request of the complainant, the judicial council may 22 revise or withdraw any prohibition, restriction, or condition 23 previously imposed.

24 (b) Orchestrated Complaints. When many essentially identical 25 complaints from different complainants are received and appear to 26 be part of an orchestrated campaign, the chief judge may 27 recommend that the judicial council issue a written order instructing 28 the circuit clerk to accept only a certain number of such complaints 29 for filing and to refuse to accept additional complaints. The circuit 30 clerk must send a copy of any such order to anyone whose 31 complaint was not accepted.

32 COMMENTARY ON RULE 10

33 This Rule is adapted from the Illustrative Rules.

34 Rule 10(a) provides a mechanism for a judicial council to restrict the filing of 35 further complaints by a single complainant who has abused the complaint procedure. In 36 some instances, however, the complaint procedure may be abused in a manner for

1 which the remedy provided in Rule 10(a) may not be appropriate. For example, some 2 circuits have been inundated with submissions of dozens or hundreds of essentially 3 identical complaints against the same judge or judges, all submitted by different 4 complainants. In many of these instances, persons with grievances against a particular 5 judge or judges used the Internet or other technology to orchestrate mass 6 complaint-filing campaigns against them. If each complaint submitted as part of such a 7 campaign were accepted for filing and processed according to these Rules, there would 8 be a serious drain on court resources without any benefit to the adjudication of the 9 underlying merits.

10 A judicial council may, therefore, respond to such mass filings under Rule 10(b) 11 by declining to accept repetitive complaints for filing, regardless of the fact that the 12 complaints are nominally submitted by different complainants. When the first complaint 13 or complaints have been dismissed on the merits, and when further, essentially identical 14 submissions follow, the judicial council may issue a second order noting that these are 15 identical or repetitive complaints, directing the circuit clerk not to accept these 16 complaints or any further such complaints for filing, and directing the clerk to send each 17 putative complainant copies of both orders.

18 ARTICLE IIIV. REVIEW OF COMPLAINT BY CHIEF JUDGE

19 11. Chief Judge’s Review

20 (a) Purpose of Chief Judge’s Review. When a complaint is identified by 21 the chief judge or is filed, the chief judge must review it unless the 22 chief judge is disqualified under Rule 25, in which case the most-23 senior active circuit judge not disqualified will review the complaint.
 24 If a complaint contains information constituting evidence of 25 misconduct or disability, but the complainant does not claim it as 26 such, the chief judge must treat the complaint as if it did allege 27 misconduct or disability and give notice to the subject judge. After 28 reviewing a complaint, the chief judge must determine whether it 29 should be:

- 30 (1) dismissed;
- 31 (2) concluded on the ground that voluntary corrective action has 32 been taken;
- 33 (3) concluded because intervening events have made action on 34 the complaint no longer necessary; or
- 35 (4) referred to a special committee.

36 (b) Chief Judge’s Inquiry. In determining what action to take under Rule 37 11(a), the chief judge may conduct a limited inquiry. The chief judge, 38 or a designee, may communicate orally or in writing with the

1 complainant, the subject judge, and any others who may have 2 knowledge of the matter, and may obtain and review transcripts and 3 other relevant documents. In conducting the inquiry, the chief judge 4 must not determine any reasonably disputed issue. Any such 5 determination must be left to a special committee appointed under 6 Rule 11(f) and to the judicial council that considers the committee’s 7 report.

8 (c) Dismissal.

9 (1) Permissible grounds. A complaint ~~may~~ must be dismissed in 10 whole or in part to the extent that the chief judge concludes 11 that the complaint:

- 12 (A) alleges conduct that, even if true, is not prejudicial to 13 the effective and expeditious administration of the 14 business of the courts and does not indicate a mental or 15 physical disability resulting in the inability to discharge 16 the duties of judicial office;
- 17 (B) is directly related to the merits of a decision or 18 procedural ruling;
- 19 (C) is frivolous;
- 20 (D) is based on allegations lacking sufficient evidence to 21 raise an inference that misconduct has occurred or that 22 a disability exists;
- 23 (E) is based on allegations that are incapable of being 24 established through investigation;
- 25 (F) has been filed in the wrong circuit under Rule 7; or
- 26 (G) is otherwise not appropriate for consideration under the 27 Act.

28 (2) Impermissible grounds. A complaint must not be dismissed
 29 solely because it repeats allegations of a previously dismissed 30 complaint if it also contains material information not 31 previously considered and does not constitute harassment of 32 the subject judge.

33 (d) Corrective Action. The chief judge may conclude a complaint 34 proceeding in whole or in part if:

- 1 (1) an informal resolution under Rule 5 satisfactory to the chief 2 judge was reached before the complaint was filed under Rule 3 6; or
- 4 (2) the chief judge determines that the subject judge has taken 5 appropriate voluntary corrective action that acknowledges and 6 remedies the problems raised by the complaint.
- 7 (e) Intervening Events. The chief judge may conclude a complaint 8 proceeding in whole or in part upon determining that intervening 9 events render some or all of the allegations moot or make remedial 10 action impossible as to the subject judge.
- 11 (f) Appointment of Special Committee. If some or all of a complaint is 12 not dismissed or concluded, the chief judge must promptly appoint a 13 special committee to investigate the complaint or any relevant 14 portion of it and to make recommendations to the judicial council.
15 Before appointing a special committee, the chief judge must invite 16 the subject judge to respond to the complaint either orally or in 17 writing if the judge was not given an opportunity during the limited 18 inquiry. In the chief judge's discretion, separate complaints may be 19 joined and assigned to a single special committee. Similarly, a 20 single complaint about more than one judge may be severed and 21 more than one special committee appointed.
- 22 (g) Notice of Chief Judge's Action; Petition for Review.
- 23 (1) When chief judge appoints special committee. If the chief 24 judge appoints a special committee, the chief judge must 25 notify the complainant and the subject judge that the matter 26 has been referred to a committee, notify the complainant of a 27 complainant's rights under Rule 16, and identify the members 28 of the committee. A copy of the order appointing the special 29 committee must be sent to the Committee on Judicial Conduct
30 and Disability.
- 31 (2) When chief judge disposes of complaint without appointing 32 special committee. If the chief judge disposes of a complaint 33 under Rule 11(c), (d), or (e), the chief judge must prepare a 34 supporting memorandum that sets forth the reasons for the 35 disposition. If the complaint was initiated by identification 36 under Rule 5, the memorandum must so indicate. Except as 37 authorized by 28 U.S.C. § 360, the memorandum must not 38 include the name of the complainant or of the subject judge.
39 The order and memoranda incorporated by reference in the

1 order must be promptly sent to the complainant, the subject
2 judge, and the Committee on Judicial Conduct and Disability.

3 (3) Right to petition for review. If the chief judge disposes of a 4 complaint under Rule 11(c), (d), or (e), the complainant and the 5 subject judge must be notified of the right to petition the 6 judicial council for review of the disposition, as provided in 7 Rule 18. If the chief judge so disposes of a complaint that was 8 identified under Rule 5 or filed by its subject judge, the chief 9 judge must transmit the order and memoranda incorporated 10 by reference in the order to the judicial council for review in 11 accordance with Rule 19. In the event of such a transmission, 12 the subject judge may make a written submission to the 13 judicial council but will have no further right of review except 14 as allowed under Rule 21(b)(1)(B). When a disposition is to be 15 reviewed by the judicial council, the chief judge must promptly 16 transmit all materials obtained in connection with the inquiry 17 under Rule 11(b) to the circuit clerk for transmittal to the 18 council.

19 (h) Public Availability of Chief Judge’s Decision. The chief judge’s 20 decision must be made public to the extent, at the time, and in the 21 manner provided in Rule 24.

23 This Rule describes complaint-review actions available either to the chief judge 24 or, where that judge is the subject judge or is otherwise disqualified under Rule 25, such 25 as where the complaint is filed against the chief circuit judge, to the judge designated 26 under Rule 25(f) to perform the chief judge’s duties under these Rules. Subsection (a) 27 of this Rule provides that where a complaint has been filed under Rule 6, the ordinary 28 doctrines of waiver do not apply. The chief judge must identify as a complaint any 29 misconduct or disability issues raised by the factual allegations of the complaint even if 30 the complainant makes no such claim with regard to those issues. For example, an 31 allegation limited to misconduct in fact-finding that mentions periods during a trial when 32 the judge was asleep must be treated as a complaint regarding disability. A formal 33 order giving notice of the expanded scope of the proceeding must be given to the 34 subject judge.

35 Subsection (b) describes the nature of the chief judge’s inquiry. It is based 36 largely on the Breyer Committee Report, 239 F.R.D. at 243–45. The Act states that 37 dismissal is appropriate “when a limited inquiry . . . demonstrates that the allegations in 38 the complaint lack any factual foundation or are conclusively refuted by objective 39 evidence.” 28 U.S.C. § 352(b)(1)(B). At the same time, however, Section 352(a) states 40 that “[t]he chief judge shall not undertake to make findings of fact about any matter that 41 is reasonably in dispute.” These two statutory standards should be read together so

1 that a matter is not “reasonably” in dispute if a limited inquiry shows that the allegations 2 do not constitute misconduct or disability, that they lack any reliable factual foundation, 3 or that they are conclusively refuted by objective evidence.

4 In conducting a limited inquiry under subsection (b), the chief judge must avoid 5 determinations of reasonably disputed issues, including reasonably disputed issues as 6 to whether the facts alleged constitute misconduct or disability, which are ordinarily left 7 to the judicial council and its special committee. An allegation of fact is ordinarily not 8 “refuted” simply because the subject judge denies it. The limited inquiry must reveal 9 something more in the way of refutation before it is appropriate to dismiss a complaint 10 that is otherwise cognizable. If it is the complainant’s word against the subject judge’s—11 in other words, there is simply no other significant evidence of what happened or of the 12 complainant’s unreliability — then there must be a special-committee investigation.
13 Such a credibility issue is a matter “reasonably in dispute” within the meaning of the Act.

14 However, dismissal following a limited inquiry may occur when a complaint refers 15 to transcripts or to witnesses and the chief judge determines that the transcripts and 16 witnesses all support the subject judge. Breyer Committee Report, 239 F.R.D. at 243.
17 For example, consider a complaint alleging that the subject judge said X, and the 18 complaint mentions, or it is independently clear, that five people may have heard what 19 the judge said. Id. The chief judge is told by the subject judge and one witness that the 20 judge did not say X, and the chief judge dismisses the complaint without questioning the 21 other four possible witnesses. Id. In this example, the matter remains reasonably in 22 dispute. If all five witnesses say the subject judge did not say X, dismissal is 23 appropriate, but if potential witnesses who are reasonably accessible have not been 24 questioned, then the matter remains reasonably in dispute. Id.

25 Similarly, under subsection (c)(1)(A), if it is clear that the conduct or disability 26 alleged, even if true, is not cognizable under these Rules, the complaint should be 27 dismissed. If that issue is reasonably in dispute, however, dismissal under subsection 28 (c)(1)(A) is inappropriate.

29 Essentially, the standard articulated in subsection (b) is that used to decide 30 motions for summary judgment pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 56. Genuine issues of 31 material fact are not resolved at the summary judgment stage. A material fact is one 32 that “might affect the outcome of the suit under the governing law,” and a dispute is 33 “genuine” if “the evidence is such that a reasonable jury could return a verdict for the 34 nonmoving party.” Anderson v. Liberty Lobby, 477 U.S. 242, 248 (1986). Similarly, the 35 chief judge may not resolve a genuine issue concerning a material fact or the existence 36 of misconduct or a disability when conducting a limited inquiry pursuant to subsection 37 (b).

38 Subsection (c) describes the grounds on which a complaint may be dismissed.
39 These are adapted from the Act, 28 U.S.C. § 352(b), and the Breyer Committee Report, 40 239 F.R.D. at 239–45. Subsection (c)(1)(A) permits dismissal of an allegation that, 41 even if true, does not constitute misconduct or disability under the statutory standard.

1 The proper standards are set out in Rule 3 and discussed in the Commentary on that 2 Rule. Subsection (c)(1)(B) permits dismissal of complaints related to the merits of a 3 decision by a subject judge; this standard is also governed by Rule 3 and its 4 accompanying Commentary.

5 Subsections (c)(1)(C)–(E) implement the statute by allowing dismissal of 6 complaints that are “frivolous, lacking sufficient evidence to raise an inference that 7 misconduct has occurred, or containing allegations which are incapable of being 8 established through investigation.” 28 U.S.C. § 352(b)(1)(A)(iii).

9 Dismissal of a complaint as “frivolous” under Rule 11(c)(1)(C) will generally occur 10 without any inquiry beyond the face of the complaint. For instance, when the 11 allegations are facially incredible or so lacking in indicia of reliability that no further 12 inquiry is warranted, dismissal under this subsection is appropriate.

13 A complaint warranting dismissal under Rule 11(c)(1)(D) is illustrated by the 14 following example. Consider a complainant who alleges an impropriety and asserts that 15 he knows of it because it was observed and reported to him by a person who is 16 identified. The subject judge denies that the event occurred. When contacted, the 17 source also denies it. In such a case, the chief judge’s proper course of action may turn 18 on whether the source had any role in the allegedly improper conduct. If the complaint 19 was based on a lawyer’s statement that he or she had an improper ex parte contact with 20 a judge, the lawyer’s denial of the impropriety might not be taken as wholly persuasive, 21 and it would be appropriate to conclude that a real factual issue is raised. On the other 22 hand, if the complaint quoted a disinterested third party and that disinterested party 23 denied that the statement had been made, there would be no value in opening a formal 24 investigation. In such a case, it would be appropriate to dismiss the complaint under 25 Rule 11(c)(1)(D).

26 Rule 11(c)(1)(E) is intended, among other things, to cover situations when no 27 evidence is offered or identified, or when the only identified source is unavailable.
28 Breyer Committee Report, 239 F.R.D. at 243. For example, a complaint alleges that an 29 unnamed attorney told the complainant that the subject judge did X. Id. The subject 30 judge denies it. The chief judge requests that the complainant (who does not purport to 31 have observed the subject judge do X) identify the unnamed witness, or that the 32 unnamed witness come forward so that the chief judge can learn the unnamed 33 witness’s account. Id. The complainant responds that he has spoken with the 34 unnamed witness, that the unnamed witness is an attorney who practices in federal 35 court, and that the unnamed witness is unwilling to be identified or to come forward. Id.
36 at 243–44. The allegation is then properly dismissed as containing allegations that are 37 incapable of being established through investigation. Id.

38 If, however, the situation involves a reasonable dispute over credibility, the 39 matter should proceed. For example, the complainant alleges an impropriety and 40 alleges that he or she observed it and that there were no other witnesses; the subject 41 judge denies that the event occurred. Unless the complainant’s allegations are facially

1 incredible or so lacking indicia of reliability as to warrant dismissal under Rule 2 11(c)(1)(C), a special committee must be appointed because there is a material factual 3 question that is reasonably in dispute.

4 Dismissal is also appropriate when a complaint is filed so long after an alleged 5 event that memory loss, death, or changes to unknown residences prevent a proper 6 investigation.

7 Subsection (c)(2) indicates that the investigative nature of the process prevents 8 the application of claim preclusion principles where new and material evidence 9 becomes available. However, it also recognizes that at some point a renewed 10 investigation may constitute harassment of the subject judge and should not be 11 undertaken, depending of course on the seriousness of the issues and the weight of the 12 new evidence.

13 Rule 11(d) implements the Act's provision for dismissal if voluntary appropriate 14 corrective action has been taken. It is largely adapted from the Breyer Committee 15 Report, 239 F.R.D. at 244–45. The Act authorizes the chief judge to conclude the 16 complaint proceedings if “appropriate corrective action has been taken.” 28 U.S.C.
17 § 352(b)(2). Under the Rule, action taken after a complaint is filed is “appropriate” when 18 it acknowledges and remedies the problem raised by the complaint. Breyer Committee 19 Report, 239 F.R.D. at 244. Because the Act deals with the conduct of judges, the 20 emphasis is on correction of the judicial conduct that was the subject of the complaint.
21 Id. Terminating a complaint based on corrective action is premised on the implicit 22 understanding that voluntary self-correction or redress of minor instances of misconduct 23 or a disability is preferable to sanctions. Id. The chief judge may facilitate this process 24 by giving the subject judge an objective view of the appearance of the judicial conduct in 25 question and by suggesting appropriate corrective measures. Id. Moreover, when 26 corrective action is taken under Rule 5 satisfactory to the chief judge before a complaint 27 is filed, that informal resolution will be sufficient to conclude a subsequent complaint 28 based on identical conduct.

29 “Corrective action” must be voluntary action taken by the subject judge. Breyer 30 Committee Report, 239 F.R.D. at 244. A remedial action directed by the chief judge or 31 by an appellate court without the participation of the subject judge in formulating the 32 directive or without the subject judge's subsequent agreement to such action does not 33 constitute the requisite voluntary corrective action. Id. Neither the chief judge nor an 34 appellate court has authority under the Act to impose a formal remedy or sanction; only 35 the judicial council can impose a formal remedy or sanction under 28 U.S.C.
36 § 354(a)(2). Id. Compliance with a previous judicial-council order may serve as 37 corrective action allowing conclusion of a later complaint about the same behavior. Id.

38 Where a subject judge's conduct has resulted in identifiable, particularized harm 39 to the complainant or another individual, appropriate corrective action should include 40 steps taken by that judge to acknowledge and redress the harm, if possible, such as by 41 an apology, recusal from a case, or a pledge to refrain from similar conduct in the 1 future. Id. While the Act is generally forward-looking, any corrective action should, to 2 the extent possible, serve to correct a specific harm to an individual, if such harm can 3 reasonably be remedied. Id. In some cases, corrective action may not be “appropriate” 4 to justify conclusion of a complaint unless the complainant or other individual harmed is 5 meaningfully apprised of the nature of the corrective action in the chief judge’s order, in 6 a direct communication from the subject judge, or otherwise. Id.

7 Voluntary corrective action should be proportionate to any plausible allegations of 8 misconduct in a complaint. The form of corrective action should also be proportionate 9 to any sanctions that the judicial council might impose under Rule 20(b), such as a 10 private or public reprimand or a change in case assignments. Breyer Committee 11 Report, 239 F.R.D. at 244–45. In other words, minor corrective action will not suffice to 12 dispose of a serious matter. Id.

13 Rule 11(e) implements Section 352(b)(2) of the Act, which permits the chief 14 judge to “conclude the proceeding,” if “action on the complaint is no longer necessary 15 because of intervening events,” such as a resignation from judicial office. Ordinarily, 16 ~~however,~~ stepping down from an administrative post such as chief judge, judicial-council 17 member, or court-committee chair does not constitute an event rendering unnecessary 18 any further action on a complaint alleging judicial misconduct. Breyer Committee 19 Report, 239 F.R.D. at 245. As long as the subject of a complaint ~~performs judicial~~ 20 ~~duties, retains the judicial office,~~ a complaint alleging judicial misconduct must be 21 addressed. Id.; 28 U.S.C. §§ 371(b); 372(a).

22 While concluding a complaint proceeding precludes remedial action under the 23 Act and these Rules as to the subject judge, the Judicial Conference and the judicial 24 councils have ample authority to assess potential institutional issues related to the 25 complaint as part of their respective responsibilities to promote “the expeditious conduct 26 of court business,” 28 U.S.C. § 331, and to “make all necessary and appropriate orders 27 for the effective administration of justice within [each] circuit.” Id. at § 332(d)(1). Such 28 an assessment might include an analysis of what conditions may have enabled 29 misconduct or prevented its discovery, and what precautionary or curative steps could 30 be undertaken to prevent its recurrence.

31 If a complaint is not disposed of pursuant to Rule 11(c), (d), or (e), a special 32 committee must be appointed. Rule 11(f) states that a subject judge must be invited to 33 respond to the complaint before a special committee is appointed, if no earlier response 34 was invited.

35 Subject judges receive copies of complaints at the same time that they are 36 referred to the chief judge, and they are free to volunteer responses to them. Under 37 Rule 11(b), the chief judge may request a response if it is thought necessary. However, 38 many complaints are clear candidates for dismissal even if their allegations are 39 accepted as true, and there is no need for the subject judge to devote time to a defense.

1 The Act requires that the order dismissing a complaint or concluding a 2 proceeding contain a statement of reasons and that a copy of the order be sent to the 3 complainant. 28 U.S.C. § 352(b). Rule 24, dealing with availability of information to the 4 public, contemplates that the order will be made public, usually without disclosing the 5 names of the complainant or the subject judge. If desired for administrative purposes, 6 more identifying information can be included in a non-public version of the order.

7 When a complaint is disposed of by the chief judge, the statutory purposes are 8 best served by providing the complainant with a full, particularized, but concise 9 explanation, giving reasons for the conclusions reached. See a/so Commentary on 10 Rule 24 (dealing with public availability).

11 Rule 11(g) provides that the complainant and the subject judge must be notified, 12 in the case of a disposition by the chief judge, of the right to petition the judicial council 13 for review. Because an identified complaint has no “complainant” to petition for review, 14 the chief judge’s dispositive order on such a complaint will be transmitted to the judicial 15 council for review. The same will apply where a complaint was filed by its subject judge.
 16 A copy of the chief judge’s order, and memoranda incorporated by reference in the 17 order, disposing of a complaint must be sent by the circuit clerk to the Committee on 18 Judicial Conduct and Disability.

19 ARTICLE IV. INVESTIGATION AND REPORT BY SPECIAL COMMITTEE

20 12. Special Committee’s Composition

21 (a) Membership. Except as provided in (e), a special committee 22 appointed under Rule 11(f) must consist of the chief judge and equal 23 numbers of circuit and district judges. These judges may include 24 senior judges. If a complaint is about a district judge, bankruptcy 25 judge, or magistrate judge, then, when possible, the district-judge 26 members of the special committee must be from districts other than 27 the district of the subject judge. For the courts named in 28 U.S.C. 28 § 363, the special committee must be selected from the judges 29 serving on the subject judge's court.

30 (b) Presiding Officer. When appointing the special committee, the chief 31 judge may serve as the presiding officer or else must designate a 32 committee member as the presiding officer.

33 (c) Bankruptcy Judge or Magistrate Judge as Adviser. If the subject 34 judge is a bankruptcy judge or magistrate judge, he or she may, 35 within 14 days after being notified of the special committee’s 36 appointment, ask the chief judge to designate as a committee 37 adviser another bankruptcy judge or magistrate judge, as the case 38 may be. The chief judge must grant such a request but may 39 otherwise use discretion in naming the adviser. Unless the adviser

1 is a Court of Federal Claims special master appointed under 42
2 U.S.C. § 300aa-12\(c\), the adviser must be from a district other than 3 the district of the subject bankruptcy judge or subject magistrate 4 judge. The adviser cannot vote but has the other privileges of a 5 special-committee member.

6 (d) Provision of Documents. The chief judge must certify to each other 7 member of the special committee and to any adviser copies of the 8 complaint and statement of facts, in whole or relevant part, and any 9 other relevant documents on file.

10 (e) Continuing Qualification of Special-Committee Member. A member 11 of a special committee may continue to serve on the committee even 12 though the member relinquishes the position of chief judge, active 13 circuit judge, or active district judge, as the case may be, but only if 14 the member continues to hold office under Article III, Section 1, of 15 the Constitution of the United States, or under 28 U.S.C. § 171.

16 (f) Inability of Special-Committee Member to Complete Service. If a 17 member of a special committee can no longer serve because of 18 death, disability, disqualification, resignation, retirement from office, 19 or other reason, the chief judge must decide whether to appoint a 20 replacement member, either a circuit or district judge as needed 21 under (a). No special committee appointed under these Rules may 22 function with only a single member, and the votes of a two-member 23 committee must be unanimous.

24 (g) Voting. All actions by a special committee must be by vote of a 25 majority of all members of the committee.

27 This Rule is adapted from the Act and the Illustrative Rules.

28 Rule 12 leaves the size of a special committee flexible, to be determined on a 29 case-by-case basis. The question the size of a special committee is one that should be 30 weighed with care in view of the potential for consuming the members' time; a large 31 committee should be appointed only if there is a special reason to do so. Rule 12(a) 32 acknowledges the common practice of including senior judges in the membership of a 33 special committee.

34 Although the Act requires that the chief judge be a member of each special 35 committee, 28 U.S.C. § 353(a)(1), it does not require that the chief judge preside.
36 Accordingly, Rule 12(b) provides that if the chief judge does not preside, he or she must 37 designate another member of the special committee as the presiding officer.

1 Rule 12(c) provides that the chief judge must appoint a bankruptcy judge or 2 magistrate judge as an adviser to a special committee at the request of a bankruptcy or 3 magistrate subject judge. Subsection (c) also provides that the adviser will have all the 4 privileges of a member of the special committee except a vote. The adviser, therefore, 5 may participate in all deliberations of the special committee, question witnesses at 6 hearings, and write a separate statement to accompany the committee’s report to the 7 judicial council.

8 Rule 12(e) provides that a member of a special committee who remains an 9 Article III judge may continue to serve on the committee even though the member’s 10 status otherwise changes. Thus, a special committee that originally consisted of the 11 chief judge and an equal number of circuit and district judges, as required by the law, 12 may continue to function even though changes of status alter that composition. This 13 provision reflects the belief that stability of membership will contribute to the quality of 14 the work of such committees.

15 Stability of membership is also the principal concern animating Rule 12(f), which 16 deals with the case in which a special committee loses a member before its work is 17 complete. The Rule permits the chief judge to determine whether a replacement 18 member should be appointed. Generally, appointment of a replacement member is 19 desirable in these situations unless the special committee has conducted evidentiary 20 hearings before the vacancy occurs. However, cases may arise in which a special 21 committee is in the late stages of its work, and in which it would be difficult for a new 22 member to play a meaningful role. The Rule also preserves the collegial character of 23 the special-committee process by prohibiting a single surviving member from serving as 24 a committee and by providing that a committee of two surviving members will, in 25 essence, operate under a unanimity rule.

26 Rule 12(g) provides that actions of a special committee must be by vote of a 27 majority of all the members. All the members of a special committee should participate 28 in committee decisions. In that circumstance, it seems reasonable to require that 29 special-committee decisions be made by a majority of the membership, rather than a 30 majority of some smaller quorum.

31 13. Conduct of Special-Committee Investigation

32 (a) Extent and Methods of Special-Committee Investigation. A special 33 committee should determine the appropriate extent and methods of 34 its investigation in light of the allegations of-in the complaint and its 35 the committee’s preliminary inquiry. In investigating the alleged 36 misconduct or disability, the special committee should take steps to 37 determine the full scope of the potential misconduct or disability, 38 including whether a pattern of misconduct or a broader disability 39 exists. The investigation may include use of appropriate experts or 40 other professionals. If, in the course of the investigation, the special 41 committee has cause to believe that the subject judge may have

1 engaged in misconduct or has a disability that is beyond the scope 2 of the complaintspecific pending complaint, the committee must 3 refer the new matter to the chief judge for a determination of whether 4 action under Rule 5 or Rule 11 is necessary before the committee's 5 investigation is expanded to include the new matter.

6 (b) Criminal Conduct. If the special committee's investigation concerns 7 conduct that may be a crime, the committee must consult with the 8 appropriate prosecutorial authorities to the extent permitted by the 9 Act to avoid compromising any criminal investigation. The special 10 committee has final authority over the timing and extent of its 11 investigation and the formulation of its recommendations.

12 (c) Staff. The special committee may arrange for staff assistance to 13 conduct the investigation. It may use existing staff of the judiciary or 14 may hire special staff through the Director of the Administrative 15 Office of the United States Courts.

16 (d) Delegation of Subpoena Power; Contempt. The chief judge may 17 delegate the authority to exercise the subpoena powers of the 18 special committee. The judicial council or special committee may 19 institute a contempt proceeding under 28 U.S.C. § 332\(d\) against 20 anyone who fails to comply with a subpoena.

22 This Rule is adapted from the Illustrative Rules.

23 Rule 13, as well as Rules 14, 15, and 16, are concerned with the way in which 24 the special committee carries out its mission. They reflect the view that the special 25 committee has two roles that are separated in ordinary litigation. First, the special 26 committee has an investigative role of the kind that is characteristically left to executive 27 branch agencies or discovery by civil litigants. 28 U.S.C. § 353(c). Second, it has a 28 formalized fact-finding and recommendation-of-disposition role that is characteristically 29 left to juries, judges, or arbitrators. Id. Rule 13 generally governs the investigative 30 stage. Even though the same body has responsibility for both roles under the Act, it is 31 important to distinguish between them in order to ensure that appropriate rights are 32 afforded at appropriate times to the subject judge.

33 Rule 13(a) includes a provision making clear that the special committee may 34 choose to consult appropriate experts or other professionals if it determines that such a 35 consultation is warranted. If, for example, the special committee has cause to believe 36 that the subject judge may be unable to discharge all of the duties of office by reason of 37 mental or physical disability, the committee could ask the subject judge to respond to 38 inquiries and, if necessary, request the judge to undergo a medical or psychological 39 examination. In advance of any such examination, the special committee may enter

1 into an agreement with the subject judge as to the scope and use that may be made of 2 the examination results. In addition or in the alternative, the special committee may ask 3 to review existing records, including medical records.

4 The extent of the subject judge's cooperation in the investigation may be taken 5 into account in the consideration of the underlying complaint. If, for example, the 6 subject judge impedes reasonable efforts to confirm or disconfirm the presence of a 7 disability, the special committee may still consider whether the conduct alleged in the 8 complaint and confirmed in the investigation constitutes disability. The same would be 9 true of a complaint alleging misconduct.

10 The special committee may also consider whether such a judge might be in 11 violation of his or her duty to cooperate in an investigation under these Rules, a duty 12 rooted not only in the Act's definition of misconduct but also in the Code of Conduct for 13 United States Judges, which emphasizes the need to maintain public confidence in the 14 judiciary, see Canon 2(A) and Canon 1 cmt., and requires judges to "facilitate the 15 performance of the administrative responsibilities of other judges and court personnel," 16 Canon 3(B)(1). If the special committee finds a breach of the duty to cooperate and 17 believes that the breach may amount to misconduct under Rule ~~3(h)(1)(H)4(a)(3)~~, it 18 should determine, under the final sentence of Rule 13(a), whether that possibility should 19 be referred to the chief judge for consideration of action under Rule 5 or Rule 11. See 20 also Commentary on Rule ~~34~~.

21 One of the difficult questions that can arise is the relationship between 22 proceedings under the Act and criminal investigations. Rule 13(b) assigns responsibility 23 for coordination to the special committee in cases in which criminal conduct is 24 suspected, but gives the committee the authority to determine the appropriate pace of 25 its activity in light of any criminal investigation.

26 Title 28 U.S.C. § 356(a) provides that a special committee will have full subpoena
27 powers as provided in 28 U.S.C. § 332(d). Section 332(d)(1) provides that subpoenas 28 will be issued on behalf of a judicial council by the circuit clerk "at the direction of the 29 chief judge of the circuit or his designee." Rule 13(d) contemplates that, where the chief 30 judge designates someone else as presiding officer of the special committee, the 31 presiding officer also be delegated the authority to direct the circuit clerk to issue 32 subpoenas related to committee proceedings. That is not intended to imply, however, 33 that the decision to use the subpoena power is exercisable by the presiding officer 34 alone. See Rule 12(g).

35 14. Conduct of Special-Committee Hearings

36 (a) Purpose of Hearings. The special committee may hold hearings to 37 take testimony and receive other evidence, to hear argument, or 38 both. If the special committee is investigating allegations against 39 more than one judge, it may hold joint or separate hearings.

1 (b) Special-Committee Evidence. Subject to Rule 15, the special 2 committee must obtain material, nonredundant evidence in the form 3 it considers appropriate. In the special committee’s discretion, 4 evidence may be obtained by committee members, staff, or both.
5 Witnesses offering testimonial evidence may include the 6 complainant and the subject judge.

7 (c) Counsel for Witnesses. The subject judge has the right to counsel.
8 The special committee has discretion to decide whether other 9 witnesses may have counsel present when they testify.

10 (d) Witness Fees. Witness fees must be paid as provided in 28 U.S.C. 11 § 1821.

12 (e) Oath. All testimony taken at a hearing must be given under oath or 13 affirmation.

14 (f) Rules of Evidence. The Federal Rules of Evidence do not apply to 15 special-committee hearings.

16 (g) Record and Transcript. A record and transcript must be made of all 17 hearings.

19 This Rule is adapted from the Act, 28 U.S.C. § 353, and the Illustrative Rules.

20 Rule 14 is concerned with the conduct of fact-finding hearings.
21 Special-committee hearings will normally be held only after the investigative work has 22 been completed and the committee has concluded that there is sufficient evidence to 23 warrant a formal fact-finding proceeding. Special-committee proceedings are primarily 24 inquisitorial rather than adversarial. Accordingly, the Federal Rules of Evidence do not 25 apply to such hearings. Inevitably, a hearing will have something of an adversary 26 character. Nevertheless, that tendency should be moderated to the extent possible.
27 Even though a proceeding will commonly have investigative and hearing stages, 28 special-committee members should not regard themselves as prosecutors one day and 29 judges the next. Their duty — and that of their staff — is at all times to be impartial 30 seekers of the truth.

31 Rule 14(b) contemplates that material evidence will be obtained by the special 32 committee and presented in the form of affidavits, live testimony, etc. Staff or others 33 who are organizing the hearings should regard it as their role to present evidence 34 representing the entire picture. With respect to testimonial evidence, the subject judge 35 should normally be called as a special-committee witness. Cases may arise in which 36 the subject judge will not testify voluntarily. In such cases, subpoena powers are 37 available, subject to the normal testimonial privileges. Although Rule 15(c) recognizes

1 the subject judge's statutory right to call witnesses on his or her own behalf, exercise of 2 this right should not usually be necessary.

3 15. Subject Judge's Rights

4 (a) Notice.

5 (1) Generally. The subject judge must receive written notice of:

6 (A) the appointment of a special committee under Rule 7 11(f);

8 (B) the expansion of the scope of an investigation under 9 Rule 13(a);

10 (C) any hearing under Rule 14, including its purposes, the 11 names of any witnesses the special committee intends 12 to call, and the text of any statements that have been 13 taken from those witnesses.

14 (2) Suggestion of additional witnesses. The subject judge may 15 suggest additional witnesses to the special committee.

16 (b) Special-Committee Report. The subject judge must be sent a copy of 17 the special committee's report when it is filed with the judicial 18 council.

19 (c) Presentation of Evidence. At any hearing held under Rule 14, the 20 subject judge has the right to present evidence, to compel the 21 attendance of witnesses, and to compel the production of 22 documents. At the request of the subject judge, the chief judge or 23 the judge's designee must direct the circuit clerk to issue a 24 subpoena to a witness under 28 U.S.C. § 332\(d\)\(1\). The subject 25 judge must be given the opportunity to cross-examine 26 special-committee witnesses, in person or by counsel.

27 (d) Presentation of Argument. The subject judge may submit written 28 argument to the special committee and must be given a reasonable 29 opportunity to present oral argument at an appropriate stage of the 30 investigation.

31 (e) Attendance at Hearings. The subject judge has the right to attend 32 any hearing held under Rule 14 and to receive copies of the 33 transcript, of any documents introduced, and of any written 34 arguments submitted by the complainant to the special committee.

1 (f) Representation by Counsel. The subject judge may choose to be 2 represented by counsel in the exercise of any right enumerated in 3 this Rule. As provided in Rule 20(e), the United States may bear the 4 costs of the representation.

5 COMMENTARY ON RULE 15

6 This Rule is adapted from the Act and the Illustrative Rules.

7 The Act states that these Rules must contain provisions requiring that “the judge 8 whose conduct is the subject of a complaint . . . be afforded an opportunity to appear (in 9 person or by counsel) at proceedings conducted by the investigating panel, to present 10 oral and documentary evidence, to compel the attendance of witnesses or the 11 production of documents, to cross-examine witnesses, and to present argument orally 12 or in writing.” 28 U.S.C. § 358(b)(2). To implement this provision, Rule 15(e) gives the 13 subject judge the right to attend any hearing held for the purpose of receiving evidence 14 of record or hearing argument under Rule 14.

15 The Act does not require that the subject judge be permitted to attend all 16 proceedings of the special committee. Accordingly, the Rules do not give a right to 17 attend other proceedings — for example, meetings at which the special committee is 18 engaged in investigative activity, such as interviewing persons to learn whether they 19 ought to be called as witnesses or examining for relevance purposes documents 20 delivered pursuant to a subpoena duces tecum, or meetings in which the committee is 21 deliberating on the evidence or its recommendations.

22 16. Complainant’s Rights in Investigation

23 (a) Notice. The complainant must receive written notice of the 24 investigation as provided in Rule 11(g)(1). When the special 25 committee’s report to the judicial council is filed, the complainant 26 must be notified of the filing. The judicial council may, in its 27 discretion, provide a copy of the report of a special committee to the 28 complainant.

29 (b) Opportunity to Provide Evidence. If the complainant knows of 30 relevant evidence not already before the special committee, the 31 complainant may briefly explain in writing the basis of that 32 knowledge and the nature of that evidence. If the special committee 33 determines that the complainant has information not already known 34 to the committee that would assist in the committee’s investigation, 35 a representative of the committee must interview the complainant.

36 (c) Presentation of Argument. The complainant may submit written 37 argument to the special committee. In its discretion, the special 38 committee may permit the complainant to offer oral argument.

1 (d) Representation by Counsel. A complainant may submit written 2 argument through counsel and, if permitted to offer oral argument, 3 may do so through counsel.

4 ~~(e) Cooperation. In exercising its discretion under this Rule, the special~~ 5 ~~committee may take into account the degree of the complainant's~~ 6 ~~cooperation in preserving the confidentiality of the proceedings,~~ 7 ~~including the identity of the subject judge.~~

8 COMMENTARY ON RULE 16

9 This Rule is adapted from the Act and the Illustrative Rules.

10 In accordance with the view of the process as fundamentally administrative and 11 inquisitorial, these Rules do not give the complainant the rights of a party to litigation 12 and leave the complainant's role largely to the discretion of the special committee.
 13 However, Rule 16(b) gives the complainant the prerogative to make a brief written 14 submission showing that he or she is aware of relevant evidence not already known to 15 the special committee. (Such a submission may precede any written or oral argument 16 the complainant provides under Rule 16(c), or it may accompany that argument.) If the 17 special committee determines, independently or from the complainant's submission, 18 that the complainant has information that would assist the committee in its investigation, 19 the complainant must be interviewed by a representative of the committee. Such an 20 interview may be in person or by telephone, and the representative of the special 21 committee may be either a member or staff.

22 Rule 16 does not contemplate that the complainant will ordinarily be permitted to 23 attend proceedings of the special committee except when testifying or presenting oral 24 argument. A special committee may exercise its discretion to permit the complainant to 25 be present at its proceedings, or to permit the complainant, individually or through 26 counsel, to participate in the examination or cross-examination of witnesses.

27 The Act authorizes an exception to the normal confidentiality provisions where 28 the judicial council in its discretion provides a copy of the report of the special 29 committee to the complainant and to the subject judge. 28 U.S.C. § 360(a)(1).
 30 However, the Rules do not entitle the complainant to a copy of the special committee's 31 report.

32 ~~———— In exercising their discretion regarding the role of the complainant, the special~~ 33 ~~committee and the judicial council should protect the confidentiality of the complaint~~ 34 ~~process. As a consequence, subsection (e) provides that the special committee may~~ 35 ~~consider the degree to which a complainant has cooperated in preserving the~~ 36 ~~confidentiality of the proceedings in determining what role beyond the minimum required~~
 37 ~~by these Rules should be given to that complainant.~~

1 17. Special-Committee Report

2 The special committee must file with the judicial council a comprehensive report 3 of its investigation, including findings and recommendations for council action.
4 The report must be accompanied by a statement of the vote by which it was 5 adopted, any separate or dissenting statements of special-committee members, 6 and the record of any hearings held under Rule 14. In addition to being sent to 7 the subject judge under Rule 15(b), a copy of the report and any accompanying 8 statements and documents must be sent to the Committee on Judicial Conduct 9 and Disability.

10 COMMENTARY ON RULE 17

11 This Rule is adapted from the Illustrative Rules and is self-explanatory. The 12 provision for sending a copy of the special-committee report and accompanying 13 statements and documents to the Committee on Judicial Conduct and Disability was 14 new at the time the Judicial Conference promulgated the Rules for Judicial-Conduct and 15 Judicial-Disability Proceedings in 2008.

16 ARTICLE VI. REVIEW BY JUDICIAL COUNCIL

17 18. Petition for Review of Chief-Judge Disposition Under Rule 11(c), (d), or (e)

18 (a) Petition for Review. After the chief judge issues an order under Rule 19 11(c), (d), or (e), the complainant or the subject judge may petition 20 the judicial council of the circuit to review the order. By rules 21 promulgated under 28 U.S.C. § 358, the judicial council may refer a 22 petition for review filed under this Rule to a panel of no fewer than 23 five members of the council, at least two of whom must be district 24 judges.

25 (b) When to File; Form; Where to File. A petition for review must be filed 26 in the office of the circuit clerk within 42 days after the date of the 27 chief judge’s order. The petition for review should be in letter form, 28 addressed to the circuit clerk, and in an envelope marked 29 “Misconduct Petition” or “Disability Petition.” The name of the 30 subject judge must not be shown on the envelope. The petition for 31 review should be typewritten or otherwise legible. It should begin 32 with “I hereby petition the judicial council for review of . . . ” and 33 state the reasons why the petition should be granted. It must be 34 signed.

35 (c) Receipt and Distribution of Petition. A circuit clerk who receives a 36 petition for review filed in accordance with this Rule must:

37 (1) acknowledge its receipt and send a copy to the complainant or 38 subject judge, as the case may be;

- 1 (2) promptly distribute to each member of the judicial council, or
- 2 its relevant panel, except for any member disqualified under
- 3 Rule 25, or make available in the manner provided by local
- 4 rule, the following materials:
- 5 (A) copies of the complaint;
- 6 (B) all materials obtained by the chief judge in connection
- 7 with the inquiry;
- 8 (C) the chief judge’s order disposing of the complaint;
- 9 (D) any memorandum in support of the chief judge’s order;
- 10 (E) the petition for review; and
- 11 (F) an appropriate ballot; and
- 12 (3) send the petition for review to the Committee on Judicial
- 13 Conduct and Disability. Unless the Committee on Judicial
- 14 Conduct and Disability requests them, the circuit clerk will not
- 15 send copies of the materials obtained by the chief judge.

16 (d) Untimely Petition. The circuit clerk must refuse to accept a petition 17 that is received after the time allowed in (b).

18 (e) Timely Petition Not in Proper Form. When the circuit clerk receives a 19 petition for review filed within the time allowed but in a form that is 20 improper to a degree that would substantially impair its 21 consideration by the judicial council — such as a document that is 22 ambiguous about whether it is intended to be a petition for review — 23 the circuit clerk must acknowledge its receipt, call the filer’s 24 attention to the deficiencies, and give the filer the opportunity to 25 correct the deficiencies within the original time allowed for filing the 26 petition or within 21 days after the date on which a notice of the 27 deficiencies was sent to the complainant, whichever is later. If the 28 deficiencies are corrected within the time allowed, the circuit clerk 29 will proceed according to paragraphs (a) and (c) of this Rule. If the 30 deficiencies are not corrected, the circuit clerk must reject the 31 petition.

33 Rule 18 is adapted largely from the Illustrative Rules.

34 Subsection (a) permits the subject judge, as well as the complainant, to petition 35 for review of the chief judge’s order dismissing a complaint under Rule 11(c), or

1 concluding that appropriate corrective action or intervening events have remedied or 2 mooted the problems raised by the complaint pursuant to Rule 11(d) or (e). Although 3 the subject judge may ostensibly be vindicated by the dismissal or conclusion of a 4 complaint, the chief judge's order may include language disagreeable to the subject 5 judge. For example, an order may dismiss a complaint, but state that the subject judge 6 did in fact engage in misconduct. Accordingly, a subject judge may wish to object to the 7 content of the order and is given the opportunity to petition the judicial council of the 8 circuit for review.

9 Subsection (b) contains a time limit of 42 days to file a petition for review. It is 10 important to establish a time limit on petitions for review of chief judges' dispositions in 11 order to provide finality to the process. If the complaint requires an investigation, the 12 investigation should proceed; if it does not, the subject judge should know that the 13 matter is closed.

14 The standards for timely filing under the Federal Rules of Appellate Procedure 15 should be applied to petitions for review. See Fed. R. App. P. 25(a)(2)(A), (C).

16 Rule 18(e) provides for an automatic extension of the time limit imposed under 17 subsection (b) if a person files a petition that is rejected for failure to comply with formal 18 requirements.

19 19. Judicial-Council Disposition of Petition for Review

20 (a) Rights of Subject Judge. At any time after a complainant files a 21 petition for review, the subject judge may file a written response with 22 the circuit clerk. The circuit clerk must promptly distribute copies of 23 the response to each member of the judicial council or of the 24 relevant panel, unless that member is disqualified under Rule 25.
25 Copies must also be distributed to the chief judge, to the 26 complainant, and to the Committee on Judicial Conduct and 27 Disability. The subject judge must not otherwise communicate with 28 individual judicial-council members about the matter. The subject 29 judge must be given copies of any communications to the judicial 30 council from the complainant.

31 (b) Judicial-Council Action. After considering a petition for review and 32 the materials before it, the judicial council may:

33 (1) affirm the chief judge's disposition by denying the petition;

34 (2) return the matter to the chief judge with directions to conduct 35 a further inquiry under Rule 11(b) or to identify a complaint
36 under Rule 5;

37 (3) return the matter to the chief judge with directions to appoint a 38 special committee under Rule 11(f); or

1 (4) in exceptional circumstances, take other appropriate action.

2 (c) Notice of Judicial-Council Decision. Copies of the judicial council’s 3 order, together with memoranda incorporated by reference in the 4 order and separate concurring or dissenting statements, must be 5 given to the complainant, the subject judge, and the Committee on 6 Judicial Conduct and Disability.

7 (d) Memorandum of Judicial-Council Decision. If the judicial council’s 8 order affirms the chief judge’s disposition, a supporting 9 memorandum must be prepared only if the council concludes that 10 there is a need to supplement the chief judge’s explanation. A 11 memorandum supporting a judicial-council order must not include 12 the name of the complainant or the subject judge.

13 (e) Review of Judicial-Council Decision. If the judicial council’s 14 decision is adverse to the petitioner, and if no member of the council 15 dissented, the complainant must be notified that he or she has no 16 right to seek review of the decision. If there was a dissent, the 17 petitioner must be informed that he or she can file a petition for 18 review under Rule 21(b).

19 (f) Public Availability of Judicial-Council Decision. Materials related to 20 the judicial council’s decision must be made public to the extent, at 21 the time, and in the manner set forth in Rule 24.

22 COMMENTARY ON RULE 19

23 This Rule is adapted largely from the Act and is self-explanatory.

24 The judicial council should ordinarily review the decision of the chief judge on the 25 merits, treating the petition for review for all practical purposes as an appeal. The 26 judicial council may respond to a petition for review by affirming the chief judge’s order, 27 remanding the matter, or, in exceptional cases, taking other appropriate action.—~~A~~ 28 ~~petition for review of a judicial council’s decision may be filed under Rule 21(b) in any~~ 29 ~~matter in which one or more members of the council dissented from the order.~~

30 Under Rule 19(b), after considering a petition for review and the materials before 31 it, a judicial council may return a matter to the chief judge to take various actions, 32 including conducting further inquiry under Rule 11(b), identifying a complaint under Rule 33 5, or appointing a special committee under Rule 11(f).

34 A petition for review of a judicial council’s decision under this Rule may be filed in 35 any matter in which one or more members of the council dissented from the order. See 36 Rule 21(b).

1 20. Judicial-Council Action Following Appointment of Special Committee

2 (a) Subject Judge's Rights. Within 21 days after the filing of the report 3 of a special committee, the subject judge may send a written 4 response to the members of the judicial council. The subject judge 5 must also be given an opportunity to present argument, personally 6 or through counsel, written or oral, as determined by the judicial 7 council. The subject judge must not otherwise communicate with 8 judicial-council members about the matter.

9 (b) Judicial-Council Action.

10 (1) Discretionary actions. Subject to the subject judge's rights set 11 forth in subsection (a), the judicial council may:

12 (A) dismiss the complaint because:

13 (i) even if the claim is true, the claimed conduct is 14 not conduct prejudicial to the effective and 15 expeditious administration of the business of the 16 courts and does not indicate a mental or physical 17 disability resulting in inability to discharge the 18 duties of office;

19 (ii) the complaint is directly related to the merits of a 20 decision or procedural ruling;

21 (iii) the facts on which the complaint is based have 22 not been established; or

23 (iv) the complaint is otherwise not appropriate for 24 consideration under 28 U.S.C. §§ 351–364.

25 (B) conclude the proceeding because appropriate corrective 26 action has been taken or intervening events have made 27 the proceeding unnecessary.

28 (C) refer the complaint to the Judicial Conference with the 29 judicial council's recommendations for action.

30 (D) take remedial action to ensure the effective and 31 expeditious administration of the business of the courts, 32 including:

33 (i) censuring or reprimanding the subject judge,
34 either by private communication or by public 35 announcement;

- 1 (ii) ordering that no new cases be assigned to the
- 2 subject judge for a limited, fixed period;
- 3 (iii) in the case of a magistrate judge, ordering the
- 4 chief judge of the district court to take action
- 5 specified by the council, including the initiation of
- 6 removal proceedings under 28 U.S.C. § 631\(i\) or
- 7 42 U.S.C. § 300aa-12\(c\)\(2\);
- 8 (iv) in the case of a bankruptcy judge, removing the
- 9 judge from office under 28 U.S.C. § 152\(e\);
- 10 (v) in the case of a circuit or district judge,
- 11 requesting the judge to retire voluntarily with the
- 12 provision (if necessary) that ordinary
- 13 length-of-service requirements be waived;
- 14 (vi) in the case of a circuit or district judge who is
- 15 eligible to retire but does not do so, certifying the
- 16 disability of the judge under 28 U.S.C. § 372\(b\) so
- 17 that an additional judge may be appointed; and
- 18 (vii) in the case of a circuit chief judge or district chief
- 19 judge, finding that the judge is temporarily unable
- 20 to perform chief-judge duties, with the result that
- 21 those duties devolve to the next eligible judge in
- 22 accordance with 28 U.S.C. § 45\(d\) or § 136\(e\).
- 23 (E) take any combination of actions described in (b)(1)(A)–
- 24 (D) of this Rule that is within its power.
- 25 (2) Mandatory actions. A judicial council must refer a complaint
- 26 to the Judicial Conference if the council determines that a
- 27 circuit judge or district judge may have engaged in conduct
- 28 that:
- 29 (A) might constitute ground for impeachment; or
- 30 (B) in the interest of justice, is not amenable to resolution
- 31 by the judicial council.
- 32 (c) Inadequate Basis for Decision. If the judicial council finds that a
- 33 special committee’s report, recommendations, and record provide an
- 34 inadequate basis for decision, it may return the matter to the
- 35 committee for further investigation and a new report, or it may
- 36 conduct further investigation. If the judicial council decides to
- 37 conduct further investigation, the subject judge must be given
- 38 adequate prior notice in writing of that decision and of the general

1 scope and purpose of the additional investigation. The judicial 2 council’s conduct of the additional investigation must generally 3 accord with the procedures and powers set forth in Rules 13 through 4 16 for the conduct of an investigation by a special committee.

5 (d) Judicial-Council Vote. Judicial-council action must be taken by a 6 majority of those members of the council who are not disqualified. A 7 decision to remove a bankruptcy judge from office requires a 8 majority vote of all the members of the judicial council.

9 (e) Recommendation for Fee Reimbursement. If the complaint has been 10 finally dismissed or concluded under (b)(1)(A) or (B) of this Rule, and 11 if the subject judge so requests, the judicial council may recommend 12 that the Director of the Administrative Office use funds appropriated 13 to the judiciary to reimburse the judge for reasonable expenses 14 incurred during the investigation, when those expenses would not 15 have been incurred but for the requirements of the Act and these 16 Rules. Reasonable expenses include attorneys’ fees and expenses 17 related to a successful defense or prosecution of a proceeding under 18 Rule 21(a) or (b).

19 (f) Judicial-Council Order. Judicial-council action must be by written 20 order. Unless the judicial council finds that extraordinary reasons 21 would make it contrary to the interests of justice, the order must be 22 accompanied by a memorandum setting forth the factual
23 determinations on which it is based and the reasons for the council 24 action. Such a memorandum may incorporate all or part of any 25 underlying special-committee report. If the complaint was initiated 26 by identification under Rule 5, the memorandum must so indicate.
27 The order and memoranda incorporated by reference in the order 28 must be provided to the complainant, the subject judge, and the 29 Committee on Judicial Conduct and Disability. The complainant and 30 the subject judge must be notified of any right to review of the 31 judicial council's decision as provided in Rule 21(b). If the complaint 32 was identified under Rule 5 or filed by its subject judge, the judicial 33 council must transmit the order and memoranda incorporated by 34 reference in the order to the Committee on Judicial Conduct and 35 Disability for review in accordance with Rule 21. In the event of such 36 a transmission, the subject judge may make a written submission to 37 the Committee on Judicial Conduct and Disability but will have no 38 further right of review.

40 This Rule is largely adapted from the Illustrative Rules.

1 Rule 20(a) provides that within 21 days after the filing of the report of a special 2 committee, the subject judge may address a written response to all of the members of 3 the judicial council. The subject judge must also be given an opportunity to present 4 argument to the judicial council, personally or through counsel, or both, at the direction
5 of the council. Whether that argument is written or oral would be for the judicial council 6 to determine. The subject judge may not otherwise communicate with judicial-council 7 members about the matter.

8 Rule 20(b)(1)(B) allows a judicial council to conclude a proceeding where 9 appropriate corrective action has been taken or intervening events have made the 10 proceeding unnecessary. This provision tracks Rules 11(d) and (e), which provide for 11 similar action by the chief judge. As with Rule 11(d), appropriate corrective action must 12 acknowledge and remedy the problem raised by the complaint. Breyer Committee 13 Report, 239 F.R.D. at 244. And similar to Rule 11(e), although “action on the complaint 14 is no longer necessary because of intervening events,” the judicial council may 15 nonetheless be able to take action on potential institutional issues related to the 16 complaint (such as an analysis of what conditions may have enabled misconduct or 17 prevented its discovery, and what precautionary or curative steps could be undertaken 18 to prevent its recurrence). 28 U.S.C. § 352(b)(2).

19 Rule 20(b)(1)(D) recites the remedial actions enumerated in 28
20 U.S.C. § 354(a)(2) while making clear that this list is not exhaustive. A judicial council 21 may consider lesser remedies. Some remedies may be unique to senior judges, whose 22 caseloads can be modified by agreement or through statutory designation and 23 certification processes.

24 Under 28 U.S.C. §§ 45(d) and 136(e), which provide for succession where “a 25 chief judge is temporarily unable to perform his duties as such,” the determination 26 whether such an inability exists is not expressly reserved to the chief judge. Nor, 27 indeed, is it assigned to any particular judge or court-governance body. Clearly, 28 however, a chief judge’s inability to function as chief could implicate “the effective and 29 expeditious administration of justice,” which the judicial council of the circuit must, under 30 28 U.S.C. § 332(d)(1), “make all necessary and appropriate orders” to secure. For this 31 reason, such reassignment is among a judicial council’s remedial options, as subsection 32 (b)(1)(D)(vii) makes clear. Consistent with 28 U.S.C. §§ 45(d) and 136(e), however, any 33 reassignment of chief-judge duties must not outlast the subject judge’s inability to 34 perform them. Nor can such reassignment result in any extension of the subject judge’s 35 term as chief judge.

36 Rule 20(c) provides that a judicial council may return a matter to a special 37 committee to augment its findings and report of its investigation to include additional 38 areas of inquiry and investigation to allow the judicial council to reach a complete and 39 fully informed judgment. Rule 20(c) also provides that if the judicial council decides to 40 conduct an additional investigation, the subject judge must be given adequate prior 41 notice in writing of that decision and of the general scope and purpose of the additional 42 investigation. The conduct of the investigation will be generally in accordance with the

1 procedures set forth in Rules 13 through 16 for the conduct of an investigation by a 2 special committee. However, if hearings are held, the judicial council may limit 3 testimony or the presentation of evidence to avoid unnecessary repetition of testimony 4 and evidence before the special committee.

5 Rule 20(d) provides that judicial-council action must be taken by a majority of 6 those members of the council who are not disqualified, except that a decision to remove 7 a bankruptcy judge from office requires a majority of all the members of the council as 8 required by 28 U.S.C. § 152(e). However, it is inappropriate to apply a similar rule to 9 the less severe actions that a judicial council may take under the Act. If some members 10 of the judicial council are disqualified in the matter, their disqualification should not be 11 given the effect of a vote against council action.

12 With regard to Rule 20(e), the judicial council, on the request of the subject 13 judge, may recommend to the Director of the Administrative Office that the subject 14 judge be reimbursed for reasonable expenses incurred, including attorneys' fees. The 15 judicial council has the authority to recommend such reimbursement where, after 16 investigation by a special committee, the complaint has been finally dismissed or 17 concluded under subsection (b)(1)(A) or (B) of this Rule. It is contemplated that such 18 reimbursement may be provided for the successful prosecution or defense of a 19 proceeding under Rule 21(a) or (b), in other words, one that results in a Rule 20 20(b)(1)(A) or (B) dismissal or conclusion.

21 Rule 20(f) requires that judicial-council action be by order and, normally, that it be 22 supported with a memorandum of factual determinations and reasons. Notice of the 23 action must be given to the complainant and the subject judge, and must include notice 24 of any right to petition for review of the judicial council's decision under Rule 21(b).
25 Because an identified complaint has no "complainant" to petition for review, a judicial 26 council's dispositive order on an identified complaint on which a special committee has 27 been appointed must be transmitted to the Committee on Judicial Conduct and 28 Disability for review. The same will apply where a complaint was filed by its subject 29 judge.

30 ARTICLE VII. REVIEW BY COMMITTEE ON JUDICIAL CONDUCT AND 31 DISABILITY

32 21. Committee on Judicial Conduct and Disability

33 (a) Committee Review. The Committee on Judicial Conduct and 34 Disability, consisting of seven members, considers and disposes of 35 all petitions for review under (b) of this Rule, in conformity with the 36 Committee's jurisdictional statement. Its review of judicial-council 37 orders is for errors of law, clear errors of fact, or abuse of discretion.
38 Its disposition of petitions for review is ordinarily final. The Judicial 39 Conference may, in its sole discretion, review any such Committee

1 decision, but a complainant or subject judge does not have a right to 2 this review.

3 (b) Reviewable Matters.

4 (1) Upon petition. A complainant or subject judge may petition 5 the Committee for review of a judicial-council order entered in 6 accordance with:

7 (A) Rule 20(b)(1)(A), (B), (D), or (E); or 8 (B) Rule 19(b)(1) or (4) if one or more members of the 9 judicial council dissented from the order.

10 (2) Upon Committee's initiative. At its initiative and in its sole 11 discretion, the Committee may review any judicial-council 12 order entered under Rule 19(b)(1) or (4), but only to determine 13 whether a special committee should be appointed. Before 14 undertaking the review, the Committee must invite that judicial 15 council to explain why it believes the appointment of a special 16 committee is unnecessary, unless the reasons are clearly 17 stated in the council's order denying the petition for review. If 18 the Committee believes that it would benefit from a 19 submission by the subject judge, it may issue an appropriate 20 request. If the Committee determines that a special committee 21 should be appointed, the Committee must issue a written 22 decision giving its reasons.

23 (c) Committee Vote. Any member of the Committee from the same 24 circuit as the subject judge is disqualified from considering or voting 25 on a petition for review related to that subject judge. Committee 26 decisions under (b) of this Rule must be by majority vote of the 27 qualified Committee members. Those members hearing the petition 28 for review should serve in that capacity until final disposition of the 29 petition, whether or not their term of committee membership has 30 ended. If only six members are qualified to consider a petition for 31 review, the Chief Justice shall select an additional judge to join the 32 qualified members to consider the petition. If four or fewer members 33 are qualified to consider a petition for review, the Chief Justice shall 34 select a panel of five judges, including the qualified Committee 35 members, to consider it.

36 (d) Additional Investigation. Except in extraordinary circumstances, the 37 Committee will not conduct an additional investigation. The 38 Committee may return the matter to the judicial council with 39 directions to undertake an additional investigation. If the Committee

1 conducts an additional investigation, it will exercise the powers of 2 the Judicial Conference under 28 U.S.C. § 331.

3 (e) Oral Argument; Personal Appearance. There is ordinarily no oral 4 argument or personal appearance before the Committee. In its 5 discretion, the Committee may permit written submissions.

6 (f) Committee Decision. A Committee decision under this Rule must be 7 transmitted promptly to the Judicial Conference. Other distribution 8 will be by the Administrative Office at the direction of the Committee 9 chair.

10 (g) Finality. All orders of the Judicial Conference or of the Committee 11 (when the Conference does not exercise its power of review) are 12 final.

14 This Rule is largely self-explanatory.

15 Rule 21(a) is intended to clarify that the delegation of power to the Committee on 16 Judicial Conduct and Disability to dispose of petitions for review does not preclude 17 review of such dispositions by the Judicial Conference. However, there is no right to 18 such review in any party.

19 Rules 21(b)(1)(B) and (b)(2) are intended to fill a jurisdictional gap as to review of 20 a dismissal or a conclusion of a complaint under Rule 19(b)(1) or (4). Where one or 21 more members of a judicial council reviewing a petition have dissented, the complainant 22 or the subject judge has the right to petition for review by the Committee. Under Rule 23 21(b)(2), the Committee may review such a dismissal or conclusion in its sole 24 discretion, whether or not a dissent occurred, and only as to the appointment of a 25 special committee. Any review under Rule 21(b)(2) will be conducted as soon as 26 practicable after the dismissal or conclusion at issue. No party has a right to such 27 review, and such review will be rare.

28 Rule 21(c) provides for review only by Committee members from circuits other 29 than that of the subject judge. The Rule provides that every petition for review must be 30 considered and voted on by at least five, and if possible by seven, qualified Committee 31 members to avoid the possibility of tie votes. If six, or four or fewer, members are 32 qualified, the Chief Justice shall appoint other judges to join the qualified members to 33 consider the petition for review. To the extent possible, the judges whom the Chief 34 Justice selects to join the qualified members should be drawn from among former 35 members of the Committee.

36 Under this Rule, all Committee decisions are final in that they are unreviewable 37 unless the Judicial Conference, in its discretion, decides to review a decision.

1 Committee decisions, however, do not necessarily constitute final action on a complaint 2 for purposes of Rule 24.

3 22. Procedures for Review

4 (a) Filing Petition for Review. A petition for review of a judicial-council 5 decision on a reviewable matter, as defined in Rule 21(b)(1), may be 6 filed by sending a brief written statement to the Committee on 7 Judicial Conduct and Disability at 8 JCD_PetitionforReview@ao.uscourts.gov or to:

9 Judicial Conference Committee on Judicial Conduct and 10 Disability
 11 Attn: Office of General Counsel
 12 Administrative Office of the United States Courts
 13 One Columbus Circle, NE
 14 Washington, D.C. 20544

15 The Administrative Office will send a copy of the petition for review 16 to the complainant or the subject judge, as the case may be.

17 (b) Form and Contents of Petition. No particular form is required. The 18 petition for review must contain a short statement of the basic facts 19 underlying the complaint, the history of its consideration before the 20 appropriate judicial council, a copy of the council’s decision, and the 21 grounds on which the petitioner seeks review. The petition for 22 review must specify the date and docket number of the 23 judicial-council order for which review is sought. The petitioner may 24 attach any documents or correspondence arising in the course of the 25 proceeding before the judicial council or its special committee. A 26 petition for review should not normally exceed 20 pages plus 27 necessary attachments. A petition for review must be signed by the 28 petitioner or his or her attorney.

29 (c) Time. A petition for review must be submitted within 42 days after 30 the date of the order for which review is sought.

31 (d) Action on Receipt of Petition. When a petition for review of a 32 judicial-council decision on a reviewable matter, as defined in Rule 33 21(b)(1), is submitted in accordance with this Rule, the 34 Administrative Office shall acknowledge its receipt, notify the chair 35 of the Committee on Judicial Conduct and Disability, and distribute 36 the petition to the members of the Committee for their deliberation.

38 Rule 22 is self-explanatory.

1 ARTICLE VIII. MISCELLANEOUS RULES

2 23. Confidentiality

3 (a) Confidentiality Generally. Confidentiality as referenced in these 4 Rules is directed toward protecting the fairness and thoroughness of 5 the process by which a complaint is filed or initiated, investigated (in 6 specific circumstances), and ultimately resolved, as specified under 7 these Rules.

8 (b) Confidentiality in the Complaint Process.

9 (a1) General Rule. The consideration of a complaint by a chief 10 judge, a special committee, a judicial council, or the 11 Committee on Judicial Conduct and Disability is confidential.
12 Information about this consideration must not be publicly
13 disclosed by any judge or judicial employee, ~~of the judiciary~~ 14 or by any person who records or transcribes testimony except 15 as allowed by these Rules. A chief judge, a judicial council, or 16 the Committee on Judicial Conduct and Disability may 17 disclose the existence of a proceeding under these Rules 18 when necessary or appropriate to maintain public confidence 19 in the judiciary’s ability to redress misconduct or disability.

20 (b2) Files. All files related to a complaint must be separately 21 maintained with appropriate security precautions to ensure 22 confidentiality.

23 (e3) Disclosure in Decisions. Except as otherwise provided in Rule 24 24, written decisions of a chief judge, a judicial council, or the 25 Committee on Judicial Conduct and Disability, and dissenting 26 opinions or separate statements of members of a council or 27 the Committee may contain information and exhibits that the 28 authors consider appropriate for inclusion, and the 29 information and exhibits may be made public.

30 (d4) Availability to Judicial Conference. On request of the Judicial 31 Conference or its Committee on Judicial Conduct and 32 Disability, the circuit clerk must furnish any requested records 33 related to a complaint. For auditing purposes, the circuit clerk 34 must provide access to the Committee on Judicial Conduct 35 and Disability to records of proceedings under the Act at the 36 site where the records are kept.

37 (e5) Availability to District Court. If the judicial council directs the 38 initiation of proceedings for removal of a magistrate judge

1 under Rule 20(b)(1)(D)(iii), the circuit clerk must provide to the 2 chief judge of the district court copies of the report of the 3 special committee and any other documents and records that 4 were before the council at the time of its decision. On request 5 of the chief judge of the district court, the judicial council may 6 authorize release to that chief judge of any other records 7 relating to the investigation.

8 (f6) Impeachment Proceedings Communications with the House of 9 Representatives. If the Judicial Conference determines that 10 consideration of impeachment may be warranted, it must 11 transmit the record of all relevant proceedings to the Speaker 12 of the House of Representatives. The Secretary of the Judicial 13 Conference may authorize disclosure of the existence of a 14 complaint or proceeding to the appropriate officials in the 15 House of Representatives.

16 (g7) Subject Judge’s Consent. If both the subject judge and the 17 chief judge consent in writing, any materials from the files may 18 be disclosed to any person. In any such disclosure, the chief 19 judge may require that the identity of the complainant, or of 20 witnesses in an investigation conducted under these Rules, 21 not be revealed.

22 (h8) Disclosure in Special Circumstances. The Judicial 23 Conference, its Committee on Judicial Conduct and Disability, 24 ~~or~~ a judicial council, or a chief judge may authorize disclosure 25 of information about the consideration of a complaint, 26 including the papers, documents, and transcripts relating to 27 the investigation, to the extent that disclosure is justified by 28 special circumstances and is not prohibited by the Act. For 29 example, D disclosure may be made to judicial researchers 30 engaged in the study or evaluation of experience under the Act 31 and related modes of judicial discipline, but only where the 32 study or evaluation has been specifically approved by the 33 Judicial Conference or by the Committee on Judicial Conduct 34 and Disability. Appropriate steps must be taken to protect the 35 identities of the subject judge, the complainant, and witnesses 36 from public disclosure. Other appropriate safeguards to 37 protect against the dissemination of confidential information 38 may be imposed.

39 (i9) Disclosure of Identity by Subject Judge. Nothing in this Rule 40 precludes the subject judge from acknowledging that he or 41 she is the judge referred to in documents made public under 42 Rule 24.

1 (j10) Assistance and Consultation. Nothing in this Rule prohibits a 2 chief judge, a special committee, a judicial council, or the 3 Judicial Conference or its Committee on Judicial Conduct and 4 Disability, in the performance of any function authorized under 5 the Act or these Rules, from seeking the help of qualified staff 6 or experts or from consulting other judges who may be helpful 7 regarding the performance of that function.

8 k(c) Disclosure of Misconduct and Disability. Nothing in these Rules and 9 Commentary concerning the confidentiality of the complaint
10 process, or in the Code of Conduct for Judicial Employees 11 concerning the use or disclosure of confidential information received 12 in the course of official duties, prevents a judicial employee from 13 reporting or disclosing misconduct.

14 COMMENTARY ON RULE 23

15 Rule 23 was adapted from the Illustrative Rules.

16 The Act applies a rule of confidentiality to “papers, documents, and records of 17 proceedings related to investigations conducted under this chapter” and states that they 18 may not be disclosed “by any person in any proceeding,” with enumerated exceptions.
19 28 U.S.C. § 360(a). Three questions arise: Who is bound by the confidentiality rule, 20 what proceedings are subject to the rule, and who is within the circle of people who may 21 have access to information without breaching the rule?

22 With regard to the first question, Rule 23(ab)(1) provides that judges, employees 23 of the judiciary, and those persons involved in recording proceedings and preparing 24 transcripts are obliged to respect the confidentiality requirement. This of course 25 includes subject judges who do not consent to identification under Rule 23(i).

26 With regard to the second question, Rule 23(ab)(1) applies the rule of 27 confidentiality broadly to consideration of a complaint at any stage.

28 With regard to the third question, there is no barrier of confidentiality among a 29 chief judge, a judicial council, the Judicial Conference, and the Committee on Judicial 30 Conduct and Disability. Each may have access to any of the confidential records for 31 use in their consideration of a referred matter, a petition for review, or monitoring the 32 administration of the Act. A district court may have similar access if the judicial council 33 orders the district court to initiate proceedings to remove a magistrate judge from office, 34 and Rule 23(eb)(5) so provides.

35 In extraordinary circumstances, a chief judge may disclose the existence of a 36 proceeding under these Rules. The disclosure of such information in high-visibility or 37 controversial cases is to reassure the public that the judiciary is capable of redressing 38 judicial misconduct or disability. Moreover, the confidentiality requirement does not

1 prevent the chief judge from “communicat[ing] orally or in writing with . . . [persons] who 2 may have knowledge of the matter,” as part of a limited inquiry conducted by the chief 3 judge under Rule 11(b).

4 Rule 23 recognizes that there must be some exceptions to the Act’s 5 confidentiality requirement. For example, the Act requires that certain orders and the 6 reasons for them must be made public. 28 U.S.C. § 360(b). Rule 23(eb)(3) makes it 7 explicit that written decisions, as well as dissenting opinions and separate statements, 8 may contain references to information that would otherwise be confidential and that 9 such information may be made public. However, subsection (eb)(3) is subject to Rule 10 24(a), which provides the general rule regarding the public availability of decisions. For 11 example, the name of a subject judge cannot be made public in a decision if disclosure 12 of the name is prohibited by that Rule.

13 The Act makes clear that there is a barrier of confidentiality between the judicial 14 branch and the legislative branch. It provides that material may be disclosed to 15 Congress only if it is believed necessary to an impeachment investigation or trial of a 16 judge. 28 U.S.C. § 360(a)(2). Accordingly, Section 355(b) of the Act requires the 17 Judicial Conference to transmit the record of a proceeding to the House of 18 Representatives if the Conference believes that impeachment of a subject judge may be 19 appropriate. Rule 23(fb)(6) implements this requirement.

20 The Act provides that confidential materials may be disclosed if authorized in 21 writing by the subject judge and by the chief judge. 28 U.S.C. § 360(a)(3). Rule 22 23(bg)(7) implements this requirement. Once the subject judge has consented to the 23 disclosure of confidential materials related to a complaint, the chief judge ordinarily will 24 refuse consent only to the extent necessary to protect the confidentiality interests of the 25 complainant or of witnesses who have testified in investigatory proceedings or who 26 have provided information in response to a limited inquiry undertaken pursuant to Rule 27 11. It will generally be necessary, therefore, for the chief judge to require that the 28 identities of the complainant or of such witnesses, as well as any identifying information, 29 be shielded in any materials disclosed, except insofar as the chief judge has secured 30 the consent of the complainant or of a particular witness to disclosure, or there is a 31 demonstrated need for disclosure of the information that, in the judgment of the chief 32 judge, outweighs the confidentiality interest of the complainant or of a particular witness 33 (as may be the case where the complainant is delusional or where the complainant or a 34 particular witness has already demonstrated a lack of concern about maintaining the 35 confidentiality of the proceedings).

36 Rule 23(bh)(8) permits disclosure of additional information in circumstances not 37 enumerated. For example, disclosure may be appropriate to permit a prosecution for 38 perjury based on testimony given before a special committee. ~~Another example might,~~ 39 where a special committee discovers involve evidence of a judge’s criminal conduct 40 conduct by a judge discovered by a special committee, to permit disciplinary action by a 41 bar association or other licensing body, or in other appropriate circumstances.

1 Under subsection (b)(8), where a complainant or other person has publicly 2 released information regarding the existence of a complaint proceeding, the Judicial 3 Conference, the Committee on Judicial Conduct and Disability, a judicial council, or a 4 chief judge may authorize the disclosure of information about the consideration of the 5 complaint, including orders and other materials related to the complaint proceeding, in 6 the interest of assuring the public that the judiciary is acting effectively and expeditiously 7 in addressing the relevant complaint proceeding.

8 Subsection (b)(8) also permits the authorization of disclosure of information 9 about the consideration of a complaint, including the papers, documents, and transcripts 10 relating to the investigation, to judicial researchers engaged in the study or evaluation of 11 experience under the Act and related modes of judicial discipline. The Rule envisions 12 disclosure of information from the official record of a complaint proceeding to a limited 13 category of persons for appropriately authorized research purposes only, and with 14 appropriate safeguards to protect individual identities in any published research results.
15 In authorizing disclosure, a judicial council may refuse to release particular materials 16 when such release would be contrary to the interests of justice, or when those materials 17 constitute purely internal communications. The Rule does not envision disclosure of 18 purely internal communications between judges and their colleagues and staff.

19 Under Rule 23(b)(10), any of the specified judges or entities performing a 20 function authorized under these Rules may seek expert or staff assistance or may 21 consult with other judges who may be helpful regarding performance of that function; 22 the confidentiality requirement does not preclude this. A chief judge, for example, may 23 properly seek the advice and assistance of another judge who the chief judge deems to 24 be in the best position to communicate with the subject judge in an attempt to bring 25 about corrective action. As another example, a new chief judge may wish to confer with 26 a predecessor to learn how similar complaints have been handled. In consulting with 27 other judges, of course, a chief judge should disclose information regarding the 28 complaint only to the extent the chief judge deems necessary under the circumstances.

29 Rule 23(c) provides that confidentiality as referenced in these Rules and 30 Commentary is directed toward protecting the fairness and thoroughness of the process 31 by which a complaint is filed or initiated, investigated (in specific circumstances), and 32 ultimately resolved, as specified under these Rules. Nothing in these Rules concerning 33 the confidentiality of the complaint process or the Code of Conduct for Judicial 34 Employees concerning use or disclosure of confidential information received in the 35 course of official duties prevents judicial employees from reporting or disclosing 36 misconduct. Judges should bring such matters to the attention of an appropriate judge 37 or other official. See Rule 4(a)(6). Judges should be mindful of Canon 3(B)(6) of the 38 Code of Conduct for United States Judges, which provides in part that a judge “should 39 take appropriate action upon learning of reliable evidence indicating the likelihood that a 40 judge’s conduct contravened this Code.”

24. Public Availability of Decisions

(a) General Rule; Specific Cases. When final action has been taken on a complaint and it is no longer subject to review as of right, all orders entered by the chief judge and judicial council, including memoranda incorporated by reference in those orders and any dissenting opinions or separate statements by members of the judicial council, ~~but excluding any orders under Rule 5 or 11(f)~~, must be made public, with the following exceptions:

(1) if the complaint is finally dismissed under Rule 11(c) without the appointment of a special committee, or if it is concluded under Rule 11(d) because of voluntary corrective action, the publicly available materials must generally should not disclose the name of the subject judge without his or her consent.

(2) if the complaint is concluded because of intervening events, or dismissed at any time after a special committee is appointed, the judicial council must determine whether the name of the subject judge should be disclosed.

(3) if the complaint is finally disposed of by a privately communicated censure or reprimand, the publicly available materials must not disclose either the name of the subject judge or the text of the reprimand.

(4) if the complaint is finally disposed of under Rule 20(b)(1)(D) by any remedial action other than private censure or reprimand, the text of the dispositive order must be included in the materials made public, and the name of the subject judge must be disclosed.

(5) the name of the complainant must not be disclosed in materials made public under this Rule unless the chief judge or the judicial council orders disclosure.

(b) Manner of Making Public. The orders described in (a) must be made public by placing the orders on the court's public website and by placing them in a publicly accessible file in the office of the circuit clerk ~~and by placing the orders on the court's public website~~. If the orders appear to have precedential value, the chief judge may cause them to be published. In addition, the Committee on Judicial Conduct and Disability will make available on the judiciary's website, www.uscourts.gov, selected illustrative orders described in paragraph (a), appropriately redacted, to provide additional

1 information to the public on how complaints are addressed under the 2 Act.

3 (c) Orders of Committee on Judicial Conduct and Disability. Orders of 4 the Committee on Judicial Conduct and Disability constituting final 5 action in a complaint proceeding arising from a particular circuit will 6 be made available to the public in the office of the circuit clerk of the 7 relevant court of appeals. The Committee on Judicial Conduct and 8 Disability will also make such orders available on the judiciary's 9 website, www.uscourts.gov. When authorized by the Committee on 10 Judicial Conduct and Disability, other orders related to complaint 11 proceedings will similarly be made available.

12 (d) Complaints Referred to Judicial Conference. If a complaint is 13 referred to the Judicial Conference under Rule 20(b)(1)(C) or 20(b)(2), 14 materials relating to the complaint will be made public only if ordered 15 by the Judicial Conference.

17 Rule 24 is adapted from the Illustrative Rules and the recommendations of the 18 Breyer Committee.

19 The Act requires the circuits to make available only written orders of a judicial 20 council or the Judicial Conference imposing some form of sanction. 28 U.S.C. § 360(b).
21 The Judicial Conference, however, has long recognized the desirability of public 22 availability of a broader range of orders and other materials. In 1994, the Judicial 23 Conference “urge[d] all circuits and courts covered by the Act to submit to the West 24 Publishing Company, for publication in Federal Reporter 3d, and to Lexis all orders 25 issued pursuant to [the Act] that are deemed by the issuing circuit or court to have 26 significant precedential value to other circuits and courts covered by the Act.” Report of 27 the Proceedings of the Judicial Conference of the United States, Mar. 1994, at 28.
28 Following this recommendation, the 2000 revision of the Illustrative Rules contained a 29 public availability provision very similar to Rule 24. In 2002, the Judicial Conference 30 again voted to encourage the circuits “to submit non-routine public orders disposing of 31 complaints of judicial misconduct or disability for publication by on-line and print 32 services.” Report of the Proceedings of the Judicial Conference of the United States, 33 Sept. 2002, at 58. The Breyer Committee Report further emphasized that “[p]osting 34 such orders on the judicial branch’s public website would not only benefit judges 35 directly, it would also encourage scholarly commentary and analysis of the orders.”
36 Breyer Committee Report, 239 F.R.D. at 216. With these considerations in mind, Rule 37 24 provides for public availability of a wide range of materials.

38 Rule 24 provides for public availability of orders of a chief judge, a judicial 39 council, and the Committee on Judicial Conduct and Disability, as well as the texts of 40 memoranda incorporated by reference in those orders, together with any dissenting

1 opinions or separate statements by members of the judicial council. No memoranda 2 other than those incorporated by reference in those orders shall be disclosed.
3 However, these orders and memoranda are to be made public only when final action on 4 the complaint has been taken and any right of review has been exhausted. The 5 provision that decisions will be made public only after final action has been taken is 6 designed in part to avoid public disclosure of the existence of pending proceedings.
7 Whether the name of the subject judge is disclosed will then depend on the nature of 8 the final action. If the final action is an order predicated on a finding of misconduct or 9 disability (other than a privately communicated censure or reprimand) the name of the 10 subject judge must be made public. If the final action is dismissal of the complaint, the 11 name of the subject judge must not be disclosed. Rule 24(a)(1) provides that where a 12 proceeding is concluded under Rule 11(d) by the chief judge on the basis of voluntary 13 corrective action, the name of the subject judge must generally should not be disclosed, 14 except where the complainant or another person has disclosed the existence of a 15 complaint proceeding to the public. Shielding the name of the subject judge in this 16 circumstance should encourage informal disposition.

17 If a complaint is dismissed as moot, or because intervening events have made 18 action on the complaint unnecessary, after appointment of a special committee, Rule 19 24(a)(2) allows the judicial council to determine whether the subject judge will be 20 identified. In such a case, no final decision has been rendered on the merits, but it may 21 be in the public interest — particularly if a judicial officer resigns in the course of an 22 investigation — to make the identity of the subject judge known.

23 Once a special committee has been appointed, and a proceeding is concluded 24 by the full judicial council on the basis of a remedial order of the council, Rule 24(a)(4) 25 provides for disclosure of the name of the subject judge.

26 Rule 24(a)(5) provides that the identity of the complainant will be disclosed only if 27 the chief judge so orders. Identifying the complainant when the subject judge is not 28 identified would increase the likelihood that the identity of the subject judge would 29 become publicly known, thus circumventing the policy of nondisclosure. It may not 30 always be practicable to shield the complainant's identity while making public disclosure 31 of the judicial council's order and supporting memoranda; in some circumstances, 32 moreover, the complainant may consent to public identification.

33 Rule 24(b) makes clear that circuits must post on their external websites all 34 orders required to be made public under Rule 24(a). Individual circuits should seek 35 ways to make decisions on complaints filed in their courts more readily accessible to the 36 public through searchable electronic indices.

37 Matters involving orders issued following a special-committee investigation often 38 involve highly sensitive situations, and it is important that judicial councils have every 39 opportunity to reach a correct and just outcome. This would include the ability to reach 40 informal resolution before a subject judge's identity must be released. But there must 41 also come a point of procedural finality. The date of finality — and thus the time at 1 which other safeguards and rules such as the publication requirement are triggered — 2 is the date on which the judicial council issues a Final Order. See In re Complaint of 3 Judicial Misconduct, 751 F.3d 611, 617 (2014) (requiring publication of a judicial council 4 order “[e]ven though the period for review had not yet elapsed” and concluding that “the 5 order was a final decision because the Council had adjudicated the matter on the merits 6 after having received a report from a special investigating committee”). As determined 7 in the cited case, modifications of this kind to a final order are subject to review by the 8 Committee on Judicial Conduct and Disability.

9 25. Disqualification

- 10 (a) General Rule. Any judge is disqualified from participating in any 11 proceeding under these Rules if the judge, ~~in his or her discretion,~~ 12 concludes that circumstances warrant disqualification. If a 13 complaint is filed by a judge, that judge is disqualified from 14 participating in any consideration of the complaint except to the 15 extent that these Rules provide for a complainant’s participation. A 16 chief judge who has identified a complaint under Rule 5 is not 17 automatically disqualified from considering the complaint.
- 18 (b) Subject Judge. A subject judge, including a chief judge, is 19 disqualified from considering a complaint except to the extent that 20 these Rules provide for participation by a subject judge.
- 21 (c) Chief Judge Disqualified from Considering Petition for Review of 22 Chief Judge’s Order. If a petition for review of the chief judge’s order 23 entered under Rule 11(c), (d), or (e) is filed with the judicial council in 24 accordance with Rule 18, the chief judge is disqualified from 25 participating in the council’s consideration of the petition.
- 26 (d) Member of Special Committee Not Disqualified. A member of the 27 judicial council who serves on a special committee, including the 28 chief judge, is not disqualified from participating in council 29 consideration of the committee’s report.
- 30 (e) Subject Judge’s Disqualification After Appointment of Special 31 Committee. Upon appointment of a special committee, the subject 32 judge is disqualified from participating in the identification or 33 consideration of any complaint, related or unrelated to the pending 34 matter, under the Act or these Rules. The disqualification continues 35 until all proceedings on the complaint against the subject judge are 36 finally terminated with no further right of review.
- 37 (f) Substitute for Disqualified Chief Judge. If the chief judge is 38 disqualified from performing duties that the Act and these Rules 39 assign to a chief judge (including where a complaint is filed against a chief judge), those duties must be assigned to the most-senior active circuit judge not disqualified. If all circuit judges in regular active service are disqualified, the judicial council may determine whether to request a transfer under Rule 26, or, in the interest of sound judicial administration, to permit the chief judge to dispose of the complaint on the merits. Members of the judicial council who are named in the complaint may participate in this determination if necessary to obtain a quorum of the council.

(g) Judicial-Council Action When Multiple Judges Disqualified. Notwithstanding any other provision in these Rules to the contrary,

(1) a member of the judicial council who is a subject judge may participate in its disposition if:

(A) participation by one or more subject judges is necessary to obtain a quorum of the judicial council;

(B) the judicial council finds that the lack of a quorum is due to the naming of one or more judges in the complaint for the purpose of disqualifying that judge or those judges, or to the naming of one or more judges based on their participation in a decision excluded from the definition of misconduct under Rule 3(h)(3); and

(C) the judicial council votes that it is necessary, appropriate, and in the interest of sound judicial administration that one or more subject judges be eligible to act.

(2) otherwise disqualified members may participate in votes taken under (g)(1)(B) and (g)(1)(C).

(h) Disqualification of Members of Committee on Judicial Conduct and Disability. No member of the Committee on Judicial Conduct and Disability is disqualified from participating in any proceeding under the Act or these Rules because of consultations with a chief judge, a member of a special committee, or a member of a judicial council about the interpretation or application of the Act or these Rules, unless the member believes that the consultation would prevent fair-minded participation.

COMMENTARY ON RULE 25

Rule 25 is adapted from the Illustrative Rules.

1 Subsection (a) provides the general rule for disqualification. Of course, a judge 2 is not disqualified simply because the subject judge is on the same court. However, this 3 subsection recognizes that there may be cases in which an appearance of bias or 4 prejudice is created by circumstances other than an association with the subject judge 5 as a colleague. For example, a judge may have a familial relationship with a 6 complainant or subject judge. When such circumstances exist, a judge may, in his or 7 her discretion, conclude that disqualification is warranted.

8 Subsection (e) makes it clear that the disqualification of the subject judge relates 9 only to the subject judge's participation in any proceeding arising under the Act or these 10 Rules. For example, the subject judge cannot initiate complaints by identification, 11 conduct limited inquiries, or choose between dismissal and special-committee 12 investigation as the threshold disposition of a complaint. Likewise, the subject judge 13 cannot participate in any proceeding arising under the Act or these Rules as a member 14 of any special committee, the judicial council of the circuit, the Judicial Conference, or 15 the Committee on Judicial Conduct and Disability. The Illustrative Rule, based on 16 Section 359(a) of the Act, is ambiguous and could be read to disqualify a subject judge 17 from service of any kind on each of the bodies mentioned. This is undoubtedly not the 18 intent of the Act; such a disqualification would be anomalous in light of the Act's 19 allowing a subject judge to continue to decide cases and to continue to exercise the 20 powers of chief circuit or district judge. It would also create a substantial deterrence to 21 the appointment of special committees, particularly where a special committee is 22 needed solely because the chief judge may not decide matters of credibility in his or her 23 review under Rule 11.

24 While a subject judge is barred by Rule 25(b) from participating in the disposition 25 of the complaint in which he or she is named, Rule 25(e) recognizes that participation in 26 proceedings arising under the Act or these Rules by a judge who is the subject of a 27 special committee investigation may lead to an appearance of self-interest in creating 28 substantive and procedural precedents governing such proceedings. Rule 25(e) bars 29 such participation.

30 Under the Act, a complaint against the chief judge is to be handled by "that circuit 31 judge in regular active service next senior in date of commission." 28 U.S.C. § 351(c).
32 Rule 25(f) provides that seniority among judges other than the chief judge is to be 33 determined by date of commission, with the result that complaints against the chief 34 judge may be routed to a former chief judge or other judge who was appointed earlier 35 than the chief judge. The Rules do not purport to prescribe who is to preside over 36 meetings of the judicial council. Consequently, where the presiding member of the 37 judicial council is disqualified from participating under these Rules, the order of 38 precedence prescribed by Rule 25(f) for performing "duties that the Act and these Rules 39 assign to a chief judge" does not apply to determine the acting presiding member of the 40 council. That is a matter left to the internal rules or operating practices of each judicial 41 council. In most cases the most senior active circuit judge who is a member of the 42 judicial council and who is not disqualified will preside.

1 Sometimes a single complaint is filed against a large group of judges. If the 2 normal disqualification rules are observed in such a case, no court of appeals judge can 3 serve as acting chief judge of the circuit, and the judicial council will be without appellate 4 members. Where the complaint is against all circuit and district judges, under normal 5 rules no member of the judicial council can perform the duties assigned to the council 6 under the statute.

7 A similar problem is created by successive complaints arising out of the same 8 underlying grievance. For example, a complainant files a complaint against a district 9 judge based on alleged misconduct, and the complaint is dismissed by the chief judge 10 under the statute. The complainant may then file a complaint against the chief judge for 11 dismissing the first complaint, and when that complaint is dismissed by the next senior 12 judge, still a third complaint may be filed. The threat is that the complainant will bump 13 down the seniority ladder until, once again, there is no member of the court of appeals 14 who can serve as acting chief judge for the purpose of the next complaint. Similarly, 15 complaints involving the merits of litigation may involve a series of decisions in which 16 many judges participated or in which a rehearing en banc was denied by the court of 17 appeals, and the complaint may name a majority of the judicial council as subject 18 judges.

19 In recognition that these multiple-judge complaints are virtually always meritless, 20 the judicial council is given discretion to determine: (1) whether it is necessary, 21 appropriate, and in the interest of sound judicial administration to permit the chief judge 22 to dispose of a complaint where it would otherwise be impossible for any active circuit 23 judge in the circuit to act, and (2) whether it is necessary, appropriate, and in the 24 interest of sound judicial administration, after appropriate findings as to need and 25 justification are made, to permit subject judges of the judicial council to participate in the 26 disposition of a petition for review where it would otherwise be impossible to obtain a 27 quorum.

28 Applying a rule of necessity in these situations is consistent with the appearance
29 of justice. See, e.g., In re Complaint of Doe, 2 F.3d 308 (8th Cir. Jud. Council 1993)
30 (invoking the rule of necessity); In re Complaint of Judicial Misconduct, No. 91-80464
31 (9th Cir. Jud. Council 1992) (same). There is no unfairness in permitting the chief judge 32 to dispose of a patently insubstantial complaint that names all active circuit judges in the 33 circuit.

34 Similarly, there is no unfairness in permitting subject judges, in these 35 circumstances, to participate in the review of the chief judge's dismissal of an 36 insubstantial complaint. The remaining option is to assign the matter to another body.
37 Among other alternatives, the judicial council may request a transfer of the petition 38 under Rule 26. Given the administrative inconvenience and delay involved in these 39 alternatives, it is desirable to request a transfer only if the judicial council determines 40 that the petition for review is substantial enough to warrant such action.

1 In the unlikely event that a quorum of the judicial council cannot be obtained to 2 consider the report of a special committee, it would normally be necessary to request a 3 transfer under Rule 26.

4 Rule 25(h) recognizes that the jurisdictional statement of the Committee on 5 Judicial Conduct and Disability contemplates consultation between members of the 6 Committee and judicial participants in proceedings under the Act and these Rules.
7 Such consultation should not automatically preclude participation by a member in that 8 proceeding.

9 26. Transfer to Another Judicial Council

10 In exceptional circumstances, a chief judge or a judicial council may ask the 11 Chief Justice to transfer a proceeding based on a complaint identified under Rule 12 5 or filed under Rule 6 to the judicial council of another circuit. The request for a 13 transfer may be made at any stage of the proceeding before a reference to the 14 Judicial Conference under Rule 20(b)(1)(C) or 20(b)(2) or a petition for review is 15 filed under Rule 22. Upon receiving such a request, the Chief Justice may refuse 16 the request or select the transferee judicial council, which may then exercise the 17 powers of a judicial council under these Rules.

18 COMMENTARY ON RULE 26

19 Rule 26 implements the Breyer Committee’s recommended use of transfers.
20 Breyer Committee Report, 239 F.R.D. at 214–15.

21 Rule 26 authorizes the transfer of a complaint proceeding to another judicial 22 council selected by the Chief Justice. Such transfers may be appropriate, for example, 23 in the case of a serious complaint where there are multiple disqualifications among the 24 original judicial council, where the issues are highly visible and a local disposition may 25 weaken public confidence in the process, where internal tensions arising in the council 26 as a result of the complaint render disposition by a less involved council appropriate, or 27 where a complaint calls into question policies or governance of the home court of 28 appeals. The power to effect a transfer is lodged in the Chief Justice to avoid disputes 29 in a judicial council over where to transfer a sensitive matter and to ensure that the 30 transferee council accepts the matter.

31 Upon receipt of a transferred proceeding, the transferee judicial council shall 32 determine the proper stage at which to begin consideration of the complaint — for 33 example, reference to the transferee chief judge, appointment of a special committee, 34 etc.

35 27. Withdrawal of Complaint or Petition for Review

36 (a) Complaint Pending Before Chief Judge. With the chief judge’s 37 consent, the complainant may withdraw a complaint that is before 38 the chief judge for a decision under Rule 11. The withdrawal of a

1 complaint will not prevent the chief judge from identifying or having 2 to identify a complaint under Rule 5 based on the withdrawn
3 complaint.

4 (b) Complaint Pending Before Special Committee or Judicial Council.
5 After a complaint has been referred to the special committee for 6 investigation and before the committee files its report, the 7 complainant may withdraw the complaint only with the consent of 8 both the subject judge and either the special committee or the 9 judicial council.

10 (c) Petition for Review. A petition for review addressed to the judicial 11 council under Rule 18, or the Committee on Judicial Conduct and 12 Disability under Rule 22, may be withdrawn if no action on the 13 petition has been taken.

14 COMMENTARY ON RULE 27

15 Rule 27 is adapted from the Illustrative Rules and treats the complaint 16 proceeding, once begun, as a matter of public business rather than as the property of 17 the complainant. Accordingly, the chief judge or the judicial council remains responsible 18 for addressing any complaint under the Act, even a complaint that has been formally 19 withdrawn by the complainant.

20 Under subsection (a), a complaint pending before the chief judge may be 21 withdrawn if the chief judge consents. Where the complaint clearly lacked merit, the 22 chief judge may accordingly be saved the burden of preparing a formal order and 23 supporting memorandum. However, the chief judge may, or be obligated under Rule 5, 24 to identify a complaint based on allegations in a withdrawn complaint.

25 If the chief judge appoints a special committee, Rule 27(b) provides that the 26 complaint may be withdrawn only with the consent of both the body before which it is 27 pending (the special committee or the judicial council) and the subject judge. Once a 28 complaint has reached the stage of appointment of a special committee, a resolution of 29 the issues may be necessary to preserve public confidence. Moreover, the subject 30 judge is given the right to insist that the matter be resolved on the merits, thereby 31 eliminating any ambiguity that might remain if the proceeding were terminated by 32 withdrawal of the complaint.

33 With regard to all petitions for review, Rule 27(c) grants the petitioner unrestricted 34 authority to withdraw the petition. It is thought that the public's interest in the 35 proceeding is adequately protected, because there will necessarily have been a 36 decision by the chief judge and often by the judicial council as well in such a case.

1 28. Availability of Rules and Forms

2 These Rules and copies of the complaint form as provided in Rule 6(a) must be 3 available without charge in the office of the circuit clerk of each court of appeals, 4 district court, bankruptcy court, or other federal court whose judges are subject 5 to the Act. Each court must also make these Rules, the complaint form, and 6 complaint-filing instructions available on the court's website, or provide an 7 Internet link to these items on the appropriate court of appeals website or on 8 www.uscourts.gov.

9 29. Effective Date

10 These Rules will become effective 30 days after promulgation by the Judicial 11 Conference of the United States. Any amendments to these Rules will become 12 effective upon promulgation by the Judicial Conference.

13 Appendix to the Rules: Form AO 310 (Complaint of Judicial Misconduct or 14 Disability)
