*Actions per Panel

The caseload statistics for the courts of appeals are presented as "actions per panel" rather than "actions per judgeship" as used for the district courts. Actions per panel provide a more accurate indication of the caseload of an individual judge, as appeals cases are generally handled by panels of three judges rather than by single judges.

Circuit's Numerical Standings	The 12 regional courts of appeals have been arranged in a ranked order with respect to the statistical indices of caseload or performance found on the profile. These values indicate where the caseload of an individual court of appeals stands in relation to the caseloads of all other circuit courts of appeals. Statistics are ranked in descending order (highest value/largest caseload receives a rank of 1).
